AMERICA CHANGES PACE

Even those first months of primaries proved to show a more exciting presidential election was going to take place. Each major candidate, Gerald Ford of the Republicans and Jimmy Carter of the Democrats, carried many supporters, some of those roamed the halls of Thomas Dale.

From the beginning of school, students were practically thrown into the campaign spirit. Election year occurs but once every four years; therefore teachers encouraged the students to take advantage of the actual learning experience.

As the nation leaned Jimmy Carter, the school went Gerald Ford. During a special election assembly, the crowds were wild; as the spirit flowed, the tension mounted; the mock election was definitely not going to end in a landslide, but the outlook appeared favorable for the incumbent president, Gerald Ford. The election concluded with a decisive 56% Ford victory over Carter's showy 41%.

The election seemed to have passed by so quickly, too fast to decide the fate for an entire nation for the next four years. The time and the mode of the people wanted a change. It is Jimmy Carter who will guide that elected change which will affect each American life, including those at Thomas Dale.

SNOW FALLS; TIME FREEZES

Those chill November winds did not at the time seem to be an omen, but the cold winter of '77 was going to set in without warning. Never had the weather conditions seemed so adverse. Natural fuels ran low; houses were not able to be heated. Winter planned to make itself known.

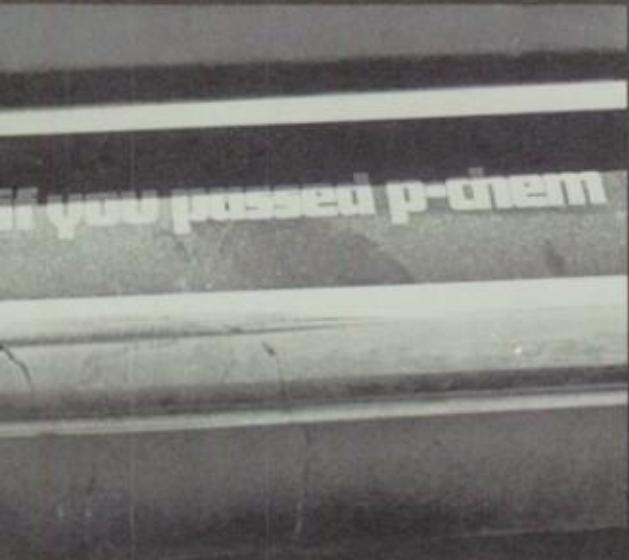

At the time snow used to be a foreign word. Little had it been used to describe the Richmond area, yet continual snow left the community in a smooth white blanket. The slick roads kept schools closed. Many students found themselves looking at a type of cold precipitation they had never witnessed before. Sledding and skiing became new area sports.

YES, VIRGINIA.
TEACHERS ARE HUMAN

The mode of the people slowed to compensate for the adversity of the unusual weather. The Businesses had to be closed or cut in hours causing layoffs of jobs. Students spent more weekends at home. Lifestyles were slowed, until again the warm weather returned. The ice and whiteness which once covered the well worn pathways became busy in attempt to make up for the lost time of the unpredicted harsh winter that hampered the lives of many during the month of January.

Opposite Page, Top Left: Showing his own dancing technique, Glenn Owens entertains at a pre-holiday pep rally. Top Right: After carrying students to school, a bus rests in the parking lot. Bottom Middle: Bumper stickers in the teacher's parking lot disclose feelings about particular issues.

ENDLESS DAZE ACTIVE KNIGHTS

Each day passes, usually unnoticed, and generally the events of the day seem insignificant, yet those trivial instances will never return, forever gone is the past and contrary to thought, history does not repeat itself. Time plays a significant part in the movement of everyone's life. Everyday life's unknowing end threaten its continuance. The motion of life seems to quicken as each day transits into the other, but somehow carries its own individuality.

The past year carries events that could never repeat in occurrence. The unusually snowy and freezing cold weather was historically a record. The Richmond area had never seen so much snow and ice, for a month Virginia became a part of New England.

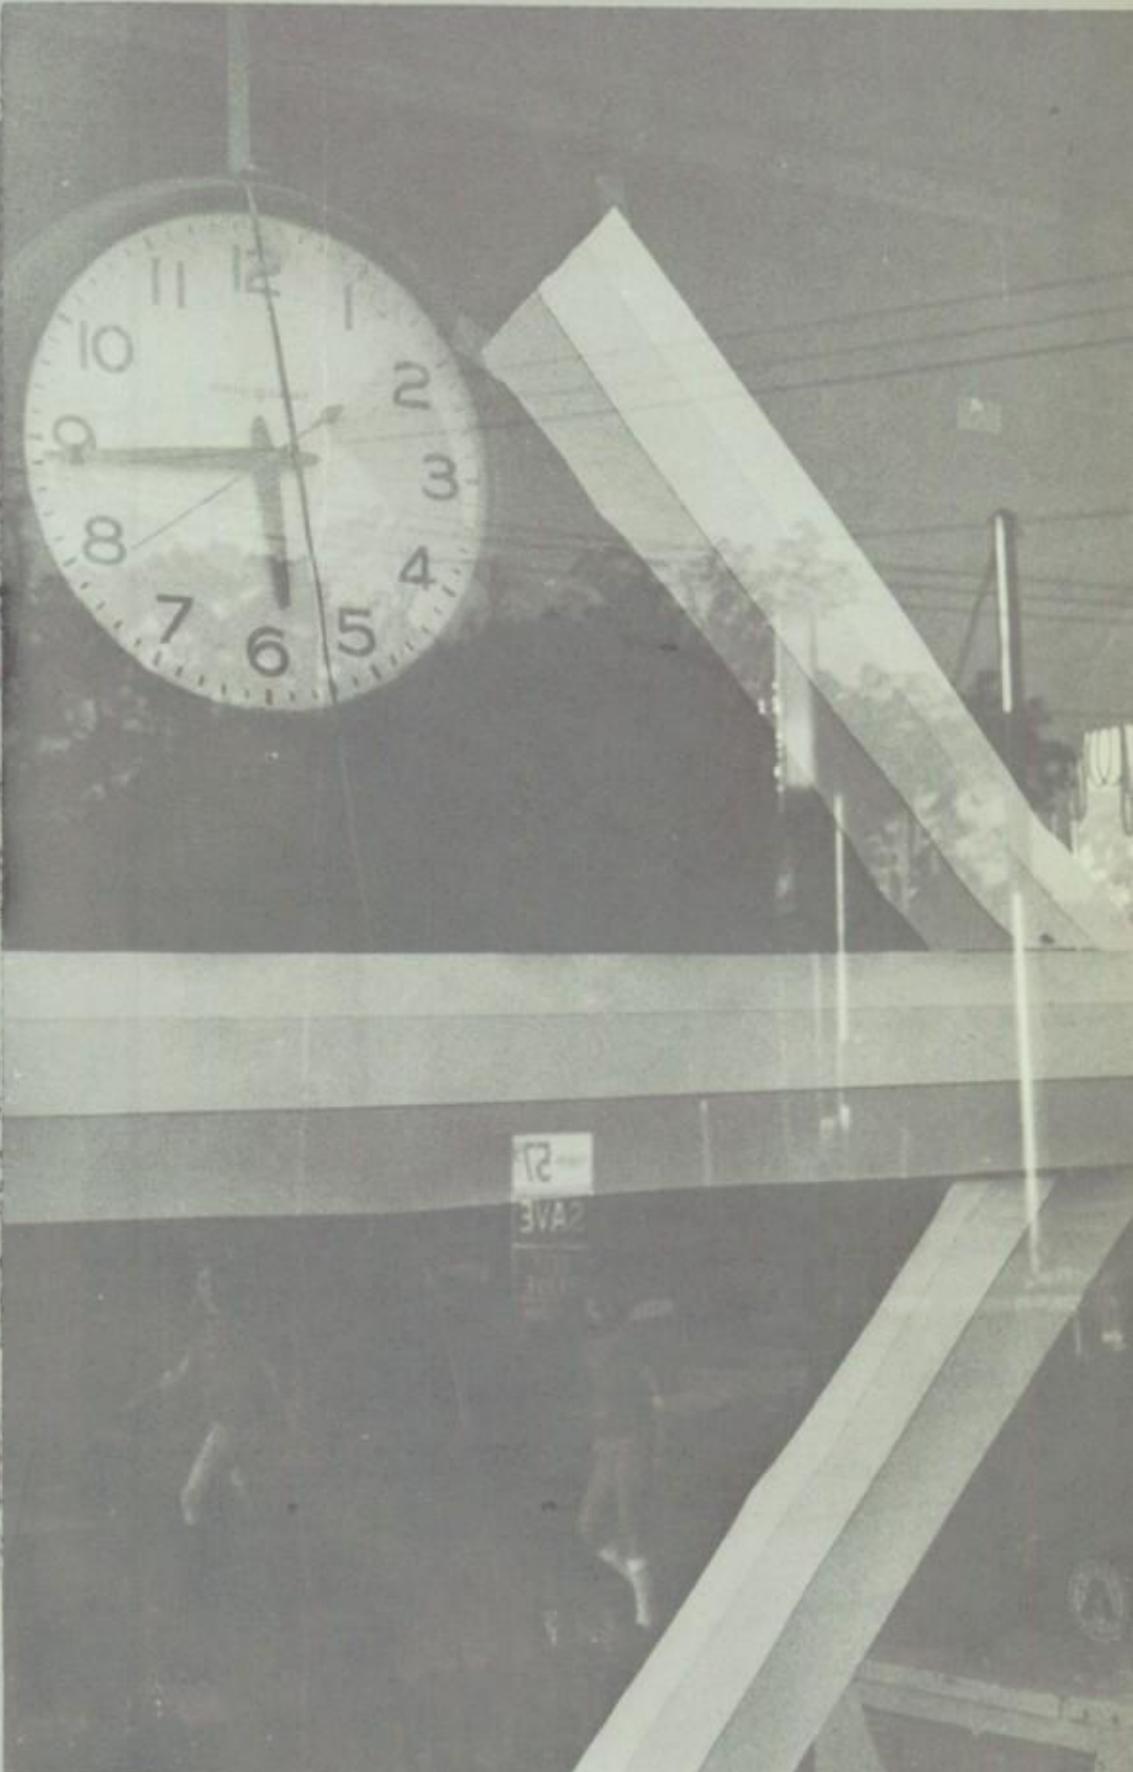

Every four years a president is elected by the people. Sometimes the election can be well predicted of a winner ahead of time, but the presidential election between major contenders Gerald Ford, and Jimmy Carter could not. The race was close to the end, both nationally as well as in the school, and the results of each election did not concur with each other.

The swing of the pendulum is thought to never stop, as life is perceived by the living, but pendulums do stop eventually.

The arm swings in continual movement marking time as it rhythmically moves back and forth. Each swing marks a new time, a refreshed day. But the swings slow down with the advancement of time and so must life eventually.

Opposite Page, Top Left: Spirited juniors and seniors wear assorted headgear during homecoming week. Bottom Left: Physics experiments involving a pendulum and a stopwatch exhibit time and motion. Right: Twirling guns, colorguard members Annette Davis and Susan Rowe demonstrate their skills during a pep rally. Bottom Page, Top Left: Joining in with the rest of the junior class, Brigette Copia, Kelli Evitts, and Carol Landrau clap and cheer. Bottom Left: Racing for the sophomore class Jay Scaggs hops around cheerleader Debbie Westfall. Right: Motion and time are reflected in a Chester gas station window.

HUMBLE BEGINNINGS

Work is doing what you now enjoy for the sake of a future which you clearly see and desire. As we perfect our music, our plays and our dancing, we complete our task with all that we have inside ourselves. If we are truly working, then we give our best — cheerfully. We remember that in the last analysis the real satisfactions in life come from the realization of a job well done.

NOSTALGIA PLEASSES CROWD!

Preparations made by Tracy Seal, Donna Townes, and Jo Lynn Wheeler add final touches to the show.

Being entertained by sexy girls stimulates the all-night attraction at the Blue Lagoon

The whole Bogie cast comes together in the big finale

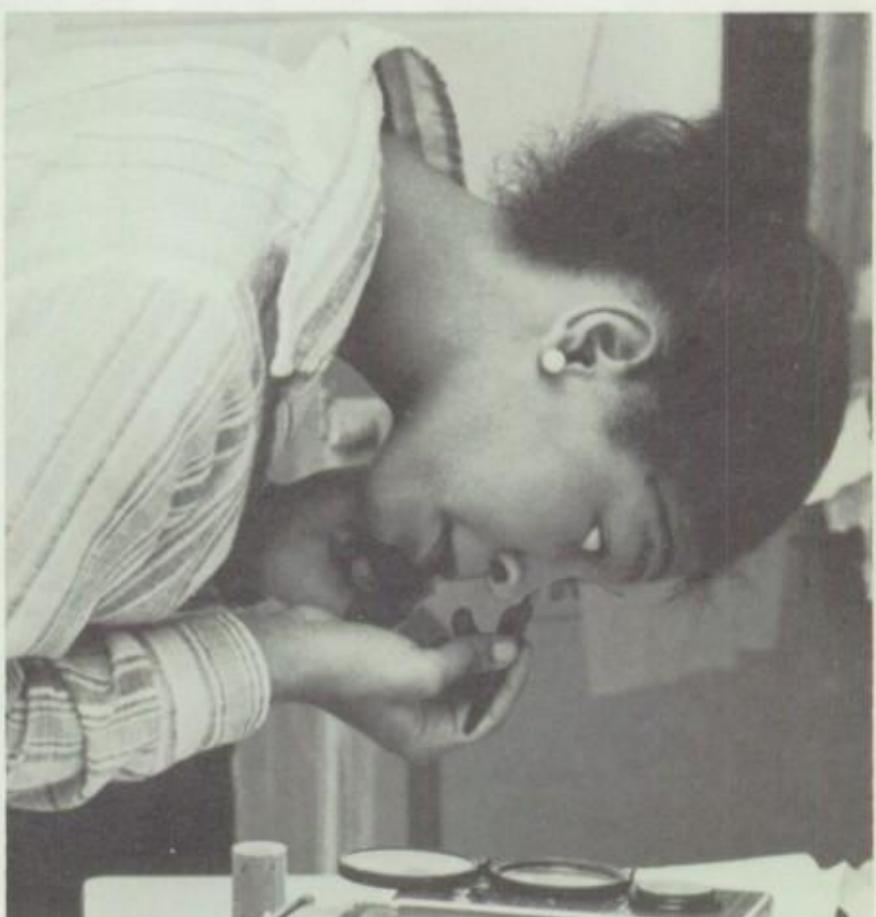

Gloria (Diana Hunt) gives H. B. (Mike Breneman) a loving look.

"An Evening with Bogie" could be considered one of the finest musical and straight dramatizations of T.D.'s history. Ms. Clark, the drama teacher, contributed greatly to the success of the show by writing the script, directing and choreographing the entire production. Hours were spent in intensive rehearsals, and the cast worked almost non-stop until they perfected the drama. Also, the lighting crew and shop people worked diligently to set the stage for the program.

The exciting and fast-paced nature of the show captured the imaginations of the audience and cast alike. The production itself was molded around Bogie's life style so well that spectators almost felt that "Play It Again Sam" Bogart had come to life on the T.D. stage.

Gary Shaver (a T.D. band member) created the music that the stage band performed. Varied tempos in the music set the mood for the different scenes. For example, the song "Get Happy" opened the show with a light, cheerful atmosphere.

Make-up has to be just right for Yolanda West.

THE F.B.I. GIVES MACK THE KNIFE

Patiently waiting for show time, Susan Pappin thinks over her lines.

H. B.'s gang looks tough, but we all know that deep down they are softies.

The hands of Mr. Mike Patch move as he plays a honky-tonk song.

The '76 spring show opened with H. B. (Mike Breneman) on stage recalling the years of the 1930's and 40's. During that time span he was the "big man" of the Blue Lagoon Gang. The Mack the Knife Gang (the second gang in the play) rivaled with the Blue Lagoon Gang to create the plot of the play. The two gangs tried to get each other into trouble. They fought at the Blue Lagoon after Mack shot H. B.

Mack's gang hid out at the abandoned warehouse where they plotted to rob a bank and make it look like H. B.'s gang did it. Nick (Steve Perez), the FBI agent, was hired by Mack to spy on H. B.'s gang, but he was actually planning to put both gangs in prison. Mack's gang lost in the end when Nick put them under arrest. Helping make the arrest, Mama Mack (Susan Pappin) provided a comical ending for the show.

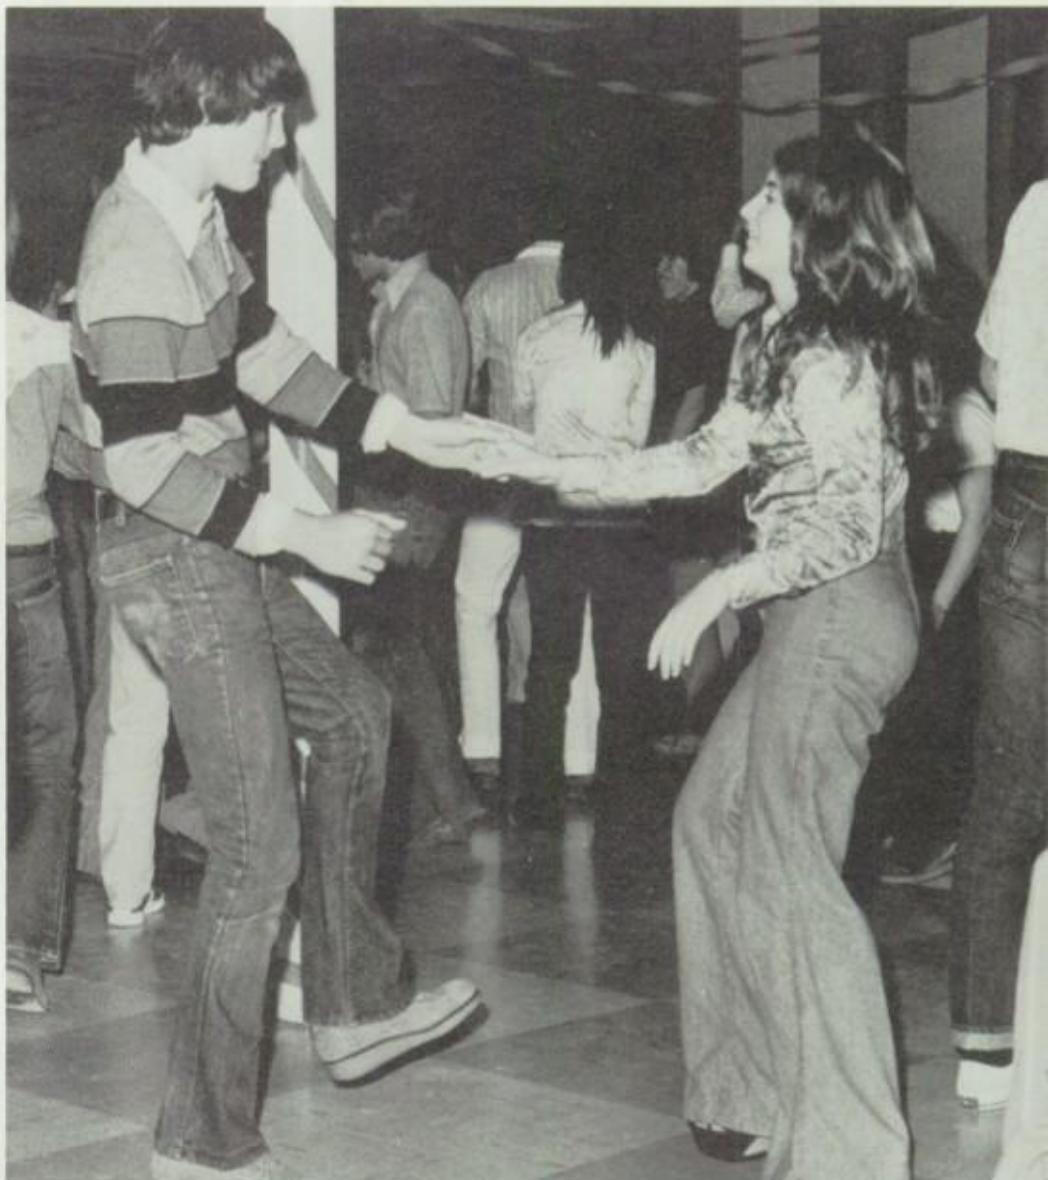

The "evil look" portrays a gangster image; David Moon practices his.

GIRLS AND GUYS SWITCH ROLES

Every young lady should know what dudes go through to take them out. The purpose of Geek Week was to let the ladies experience those difficulties and give the fellows a break. The cheerleaders planned an event for each day of the week. One day the girls brought their dates a bag of sweets, another day they had to bring their boyfriends a lunch. Slave day proved to be a rough one for the girls with studious boyfriends.

The week ended Friday night with the dance as students moved and grooved to the sounds of I. W. Harper, J. D. Fenesey and Carolyn Mardwood were crowned King and Queen of Geek Week at the dance. Also, the S.C.A. announced the newly elected officers.

Concentrating hard, Glenn Owens learns "The Hustle" from Brenda Goins.

During a rest break for the band, students gather around to talk with each other.

King and Queen of homecoming, J. D. Fenesey and Carolyn Markwood bump to the music.

HERE HE (SHE?) IS — MESS AMERICA

Twelve foot beauty (Keith Bosher and Tom Daughtery) towers over M.C., Chris Michalek.

Belly dancer Scott Halder nabs first runner-up.

Mademoiselle Fifi (Charles Todd) takes title of Mess America with his "permanent cement" comment.

Hysterical laughter reverberated through the auditorium as the parade of beautiful boys filed on stage. Gasps of awe filled the air at the sight of such overwhelming loveliness.

The boys' attire ranged from sleazy outfits to classy fashions. Their escorts suffered the uncomfortableness of the usual men's suits. The clothes were stuffy but the atmosphere was far from formal.

Miss FiFi, Charles Todd, strolled away with first place after performing "Stars and Stripes Forever" using hand gymnastics. Scott Halder belly-danced his way to first place runner-up while J. D. Fennesy captured second runner-up by impersonating famous Hollywood starlets.

"HIGH STEPPIN' AND FANCY DANCIN'", A DREAM COME TRUE FOR JUNIORS

A glance outside at 6 p.m. on prom night '76 caused unexpected worries for prom-goers. Rain poured from the sky as

T.D. students waded through water puddles to have their pictures taken before going out for dinner. The down-pour tapered off in early evening.

Wet weather did not, however, dampen the spirits of participants Robin Peterson and Tom Dougherty as they were crowned king and queen of the prom.

Junior class members, under the leadership of Mrs. Fitzgerald, designed and built a wonderous mountain with a trickling stream rolling down the bleachers.

Throughout the night the courtyard remained alive with conversation while people in the fantasy-mountain gymnasium grooved to the sounds of Larry Raspberry and the Highsteppers.

After waiting weeks for the decision, Robin Peterson and Tommy Dougherty are crowned.

In answer to thunderous applause, Larry Raspberry and company do an encore.

While in the courtyard, Debbie McLeod and Bob Hudson catch their breath.

The irregular beat of the music causes Tim Wilson and date, Mike Williamson and date, and Rick Bulifant to dance with hesitation.

Only the '76 Junior Class knows the struggle of building this extravagant waterfall.

In a romantic atmosphere, Jo Chandler and Tom O'Brian retreat to a world of their own.

GRADUATION: MEMORIES TO CHERISH EXPERIENCES FROM WHICH TO LEARN

"Be proud and advance confidently in the direction of your dreams."

Graduation — Commencement

— two words that apply to the entire graduated class. A phase of life ended with graduation. The commencement meant the beginning of a whole new life for each person who graduated. Some began work right away, many went off to college, and still others joined the armed forces. Each went his separate way to begin a new portion of his own life.

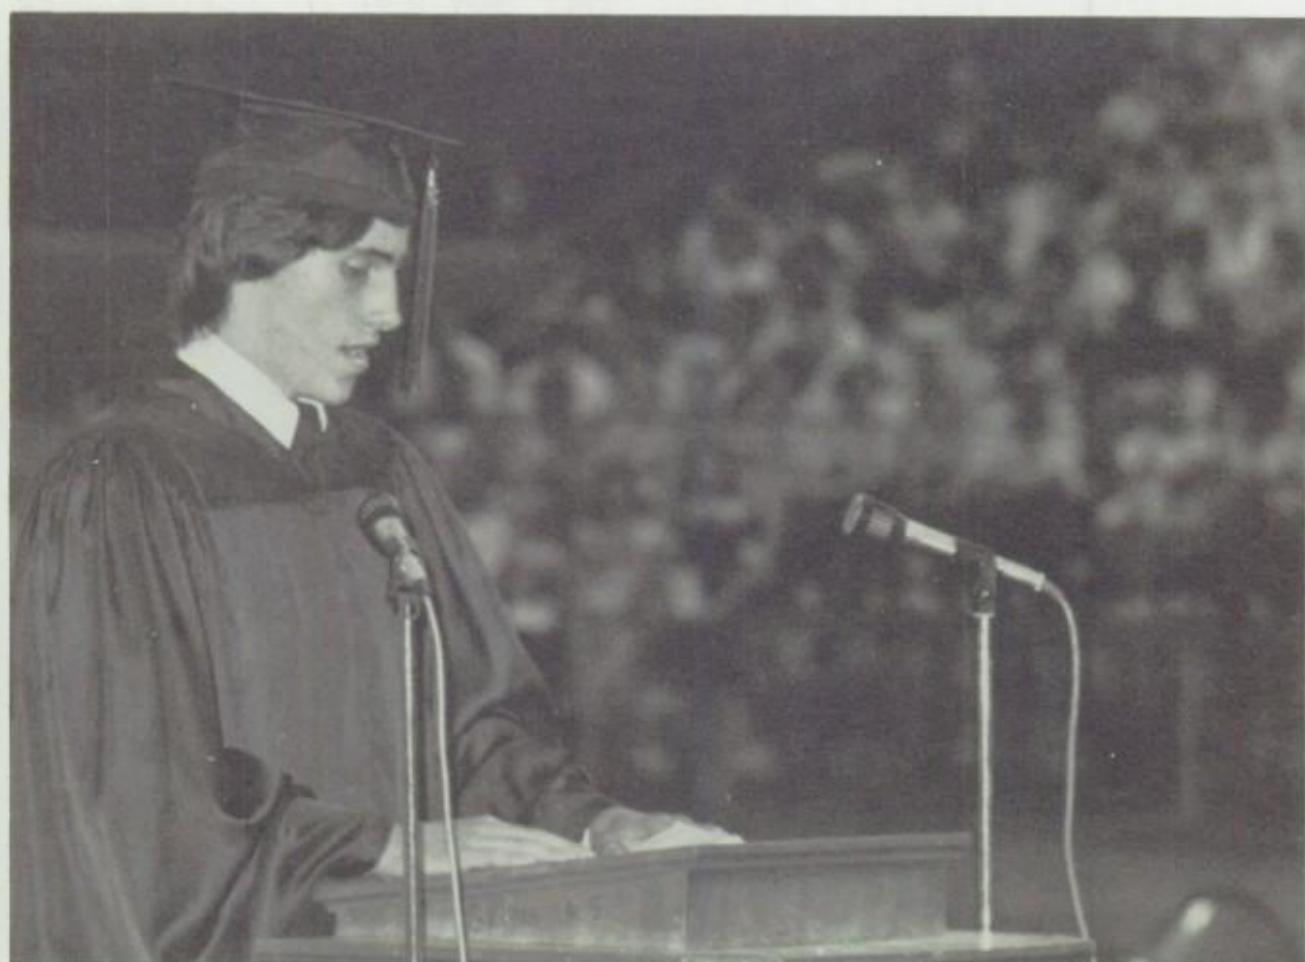

Exercises marking the new beginning were held on June 10. Leigh Randles and Tom Virtue gave the valedictory and salutatory speeches. As the chorus led the Alma Mater, the graduates realized that they had ended their high school days and were entering into the realm of the unknown.

Teary-eyed and excited, Mitzi Blair, Rose Lynch, and Mark Micklem wistfully remember good times.

"May God bless you and may you have a long, happy and prosperous life. Good Luck!" — J. Wilson Crump

Addressing the '76 graduates, senior class president Chet Arnold talks of honor.

Sophomores seem to feel that eternity will pass before they part from T.D., but the '76 graduates could tell them differently. On graduation night, uncertainty filled the minds of all those leaving T.D., and tears trickled down uneasy cheeks as the song "Pomp and Circumstance" embedded itself into the minds of the T.D. band who played for the processional.

The affair began solemnly with little motion and by the end of the evening had developed into a true party. After each graduate had turned his tassle, caps were hurled into midair in a rejoicing salute to the last of the memorable days at T.D.

Without hesitation, the final gesture of turning the tassels is made.

To highlight the evening of the Homecoming game against Prince George, many clubs entered floats in the parade, this year bearing the theme, "Spirit in the Knights." FHA captured the prize for the most original float with a display of live socks cheering the team to victory. Stealing the most spirited float, the Y-Clubs posed as debators for the game. Beethoven encircled the track to win the best-all-around award for the German Club.

Following the band's performance, Mr. Crump crowned Jettaka McGregor homecoming queen, after which she ventured around the track on the enormous SCA float. The trip was the first of the duties of her new title as queen. Like many queens before her, she experienced tension but, she later stated that she was "excited and surprised" by the outcome of the vote.

Playing a symphony for a victorious homecoming, Cissy Alley portrays Beethoven on the German Club float.

Debating the issue of a win over Prince George, Ricky Toone, Jay Skaggs and Donna Acres rally for a victory.

Riding on the Colorguard float, Timmy Roberts portrays a triumphant Knight.

Walking off with Most Original float, FHA socks wave to the crowd.

CHILLY CROWD CHEERS UPROARIOUSLY

After weeks of waiting, Jettaka McGregor screams with astonishment upon learning the homecoming queen selection.

1. Sophomore class princess Laura Johnson is escorted by a Junior, Marty Kiboloski. 2. With Mike Jamerson as escort, junior princess Betsy Stell advances on to the field. 3. Senior princess Debra Hartmen and escort Jon Waters walk on the field at the start of the judging. 4. One of the five senior princesses Stacy Sheffield is accompanied by Micky Gravitte. 5. Jane West, a senior member of the court, is escorted by Mike Reed. 6. Escorted by Art Chambliss, Laura Drapper walks anxiously to the field.

SEARCHING FOR A RAINBOW!

In honor of the newly crowned Homecoming Queen, Jettaka McGregor,

"The Other Band" performed at the annual Homecoming Dance. The theme was "Searching for a Rainbow." Unlike an imaginative "perfect dance," the band arrived thirty minutes late, but extended the time at the end of the evening to account for the lost minutes. Not only was the band late, but after the dance, one participant said, "I can't remember much about the band. All I remember is that it was not the same as any dance I've ever attended. Not many people were there and the ones that did come did not dance."

Another student commented, "at least they took a number of breaks. Those breaks really saved our ears."

A female vocalist from "The Other Band" brought on some unusual vibrations.

Being reunited with Lloyd O'Hara and Terry Emerson are former students Mindy Hirsch and Carole Dent.

Crutches did not prevent Mike Jamerson from taking Betsy Stell to the dance.

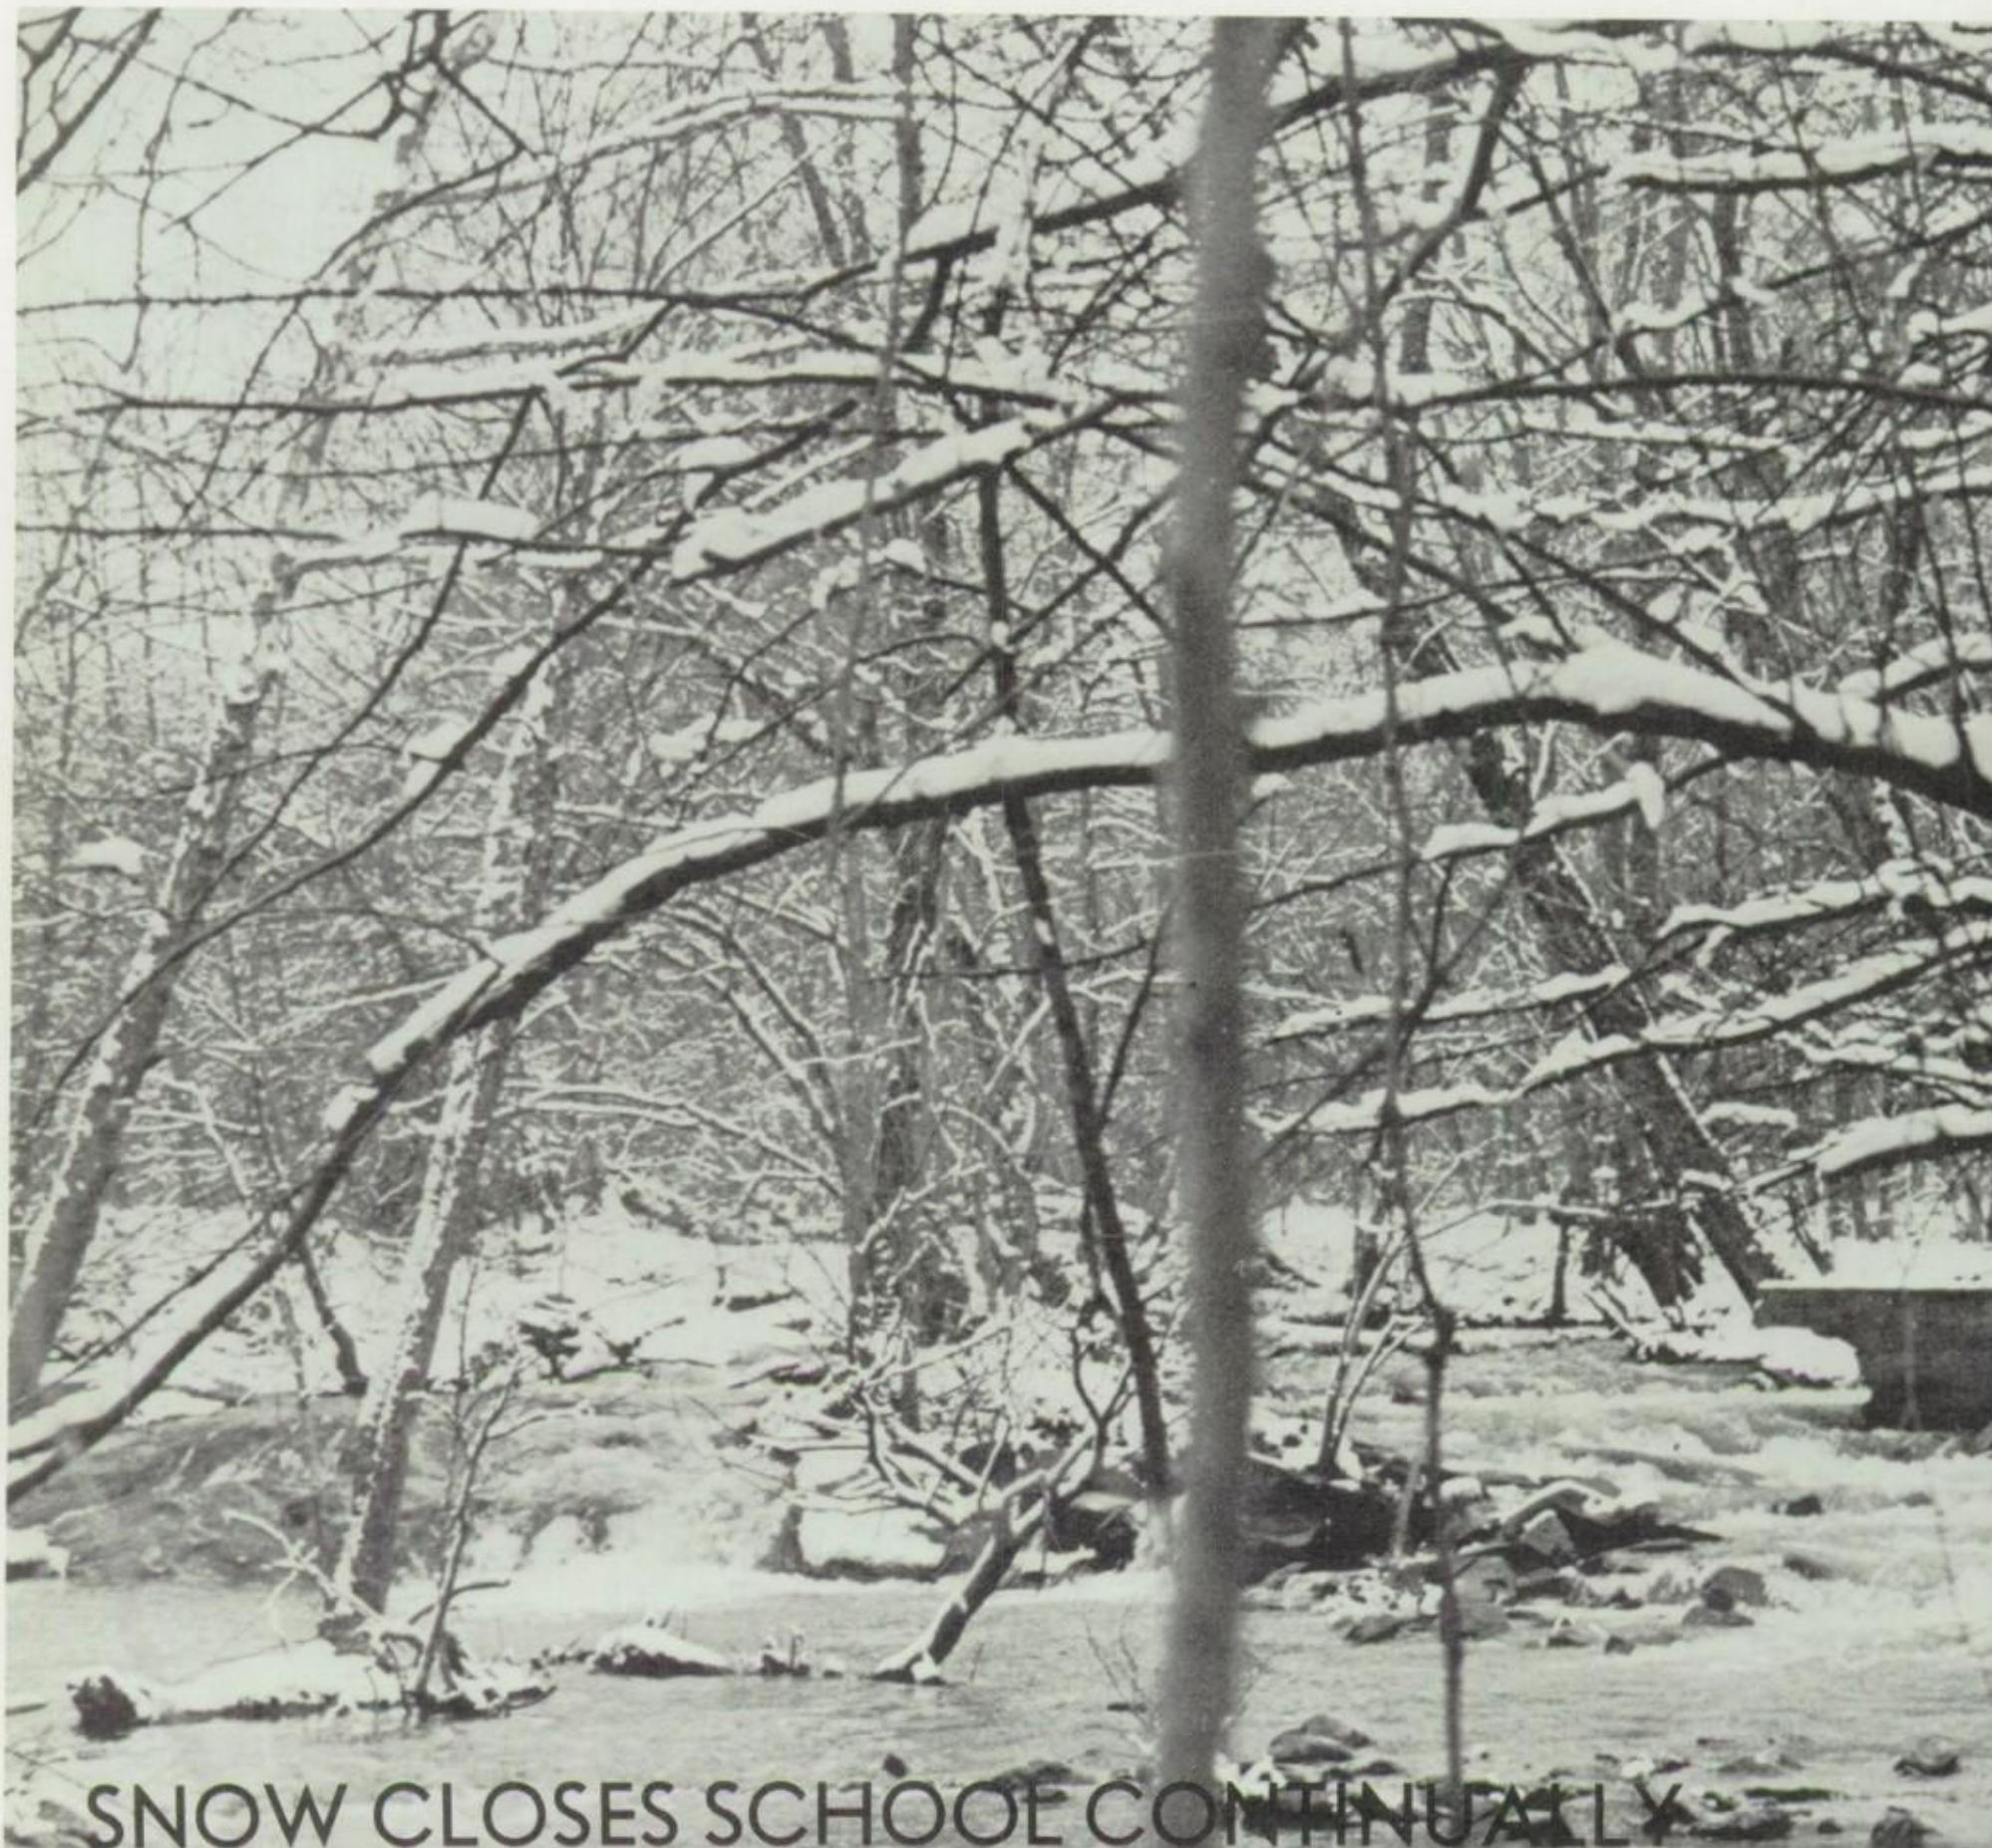

Taking in a view of the stars are Robbie Kemnitz and Rosalind Twilley, Tricia Hayes and Darren Irvine, Toney Roberts and Bobby Fitzgerald.

Concentrating on their dance movements are Gary Carruthers and Bobbie Pennington.

Sharing a moment together, Darlene Marshall and Chuck Bailey get a chance to talk.

SNOW CLOSES SCHOOL CONTINUALLY

As every year when spring commences to emerge from winter, students begin to wish for that beautiful white precipitation from the overhanging grey skies. Because measurable falls of snow in the Chester area are usually rare, those early morning flakes of January 5th were not taken seriously. When Mr. Peirce announced the closing of school less than one hour after it began, the excitement of that first snow was felt throughout the school.

The busses were called back to take the students home and suddenly the day's agenda was changed for everyone. It was not tests and worksheets now, but snowball fights, sledding, and hot chocolate. Innumerable plans were made, and they all had to be done that day because the following morning would mean back to school. Yet continual snow throughout the night and freezing temperatures created such hazardous road conditions, school was cancelled for the next two days.

The snow would not let up and school was again cancelled for the following Monday. The students were beginning to spend more time at home than at school, but Tuesday the weather warmed up it was back to the old grind.

Yet the following Monday, temperatures were a record low and the area waterways were frozen thick. In result Vepco could not produce all the electricity needed for the surrounding area and school was dismissed in the middle of second period and also delayed an hour the next morning.

Snow did not have its last fall and in mid-afternoon of January 24th white flakes began to precipitate. The white crystals stuck like magnets; instantly the roads were slabs of ice. The Miss Thomas Dale judging had to be cancelled and thusly the contest, which had previously been rescheduled twice, once for snow and once for its confliction with wrestling. The show was rescheduled for February 3rd.

Throughout the eastern seaboard natural gas became a scarce commodity. Governor Mills Godwin announced a statewide energy state of emergency involving schools to cut out all non-interscholastic activities — Miss Thomas Dale Variety Show had to be postponed, but this time it was decided until the spring when the cold weather could not effect the scheduling.

Never in the recent history of the Richmond area had snow and cold weather had such an effect on the lives of its citizens. Although snow would be predicted several times more, it did not carry the air of excitement as it once did. The word "snow" for the first time in years became everyday lingual as the colder than New England-type winter set in Chester.

LARGE TURNOUT PUTS CHAIRS IN THE AISLES

A hostess to the annual Christmas Show, Cindy Wood hands out the programs as people walk through the door.

There were people everywhere; the show had to be a success or many people would be disappointed. Last year's audiences were large, yet this year's Christmas Show brought near sellout crowds.

As every yuletide season, the Chorus and Band departments collaborated to bring a spirited show to the community. The combined efforts of the Concert band, Jazz Ensemble, Orchestra, and the Chorus all joined together to create a Christmastime show that was hopefully not to be forgotten.

The curtain opened with the orchestra playing a version of Christmas Concerto by Corelli. Upon the finishing of the Orchestra, the Vocal Ensemble came on stage to sing to the audience "Rudolph the Red Nosed Reindeer."

Along with the concert band, John Milano drums out Leroy Anderson's "Sleigh Ride."

Watching the newborn Messiah intensely, wisemen Gene Sasser and Charles Springer offer their gifts of frankincense and myrrh.

Throughout the show, Lu Anne Stuck alternated between the flute and her piccolo.

Praising the newborn babe, Mary and Joseph, portrayed by Kathy Barber and Michael Willis, kneeled silently in awe of the miracle.

The Jazz Ensemble had its designated spot in the show. As the curtain opened, Gary Shaver introduced Mel Torme's "Christmas Song" on his saxophone. The Concert band played the familiar and annually enjoyed "Sleigh Ride."

The Christmas show entitled, "Storybook Christmas" was about a toy shop and its curious toys. The toy shop owner, portrayed by Tim Webster, specifically commands his shop helpers to never touch the toys, yet the mechanical toys are irresistible to the helpers. They begin to wind the toys, starting with the Raggedy Ann and Andy dolls, Amy Perdue and Robert Medell. Soon there were toy soldiers and an array of dolls dancing around the toy shop, that is until the toy shop owner discovers his misbehaving assistants and scolds their wrong doings.

Prior to the intermission, the audience was at a complete silence as the Chorus went into "Ding Dong Merrily on High."

The second half of the Christmas show manifested the true meaning of the time with the Christ child. The three wisemen brought their treasured gifts to offer to the newborn babe. The show ended with the traditional singing of Hallelujah Chorus.

14 VIE FOR INTRAMURAL CROWN

Intramurals are basketball teams set up within the school. Mr. Louis Pierce set up the league of fourteen teams and refereed at the games. Through numerous hard practices and games, only one team was left undefeated. The number one team, Average White Team, somehow managed to pull through to the top. Before the end of the season, The Average White Team was well in the driver's seat. Members of the A.W.T. included Ed Jenkins, Gary Carruthers, Richard Meadows, Ray Heavener, Bob Medell, Kyle Weidlich, and Mark Tuck.

TUMBLING INTO A NEW SPORT

In perfect balance on the uneven parallel bars, Celeste Allen pauses a moment while executing her routine.

Team members, Karen Sawyer, Celeste Allen, Julie Carnifax, Sherry Ferguson, and Betty Hartmann, relax before a meet.

Setting her feelings to music, Julie Carnifax performs a floor exercise in competition against Meadowbrook.

At a Salem meet, concentration captivates Sherry Ferguson as she completes her vault over the horse.

Beam, bars, floor exercise, and horse are not new terms to a gymnast; however, these terms apply to a new addition to the already abundant sports program. Five girls traveled to Salem Church Junior High for practice every afternoon because TD was not equipped to host the gymnastic team. The coach, Miss Paula Grubb, teaches at Salem and also sponsors its gymnastic team as well as ours.

Gymnastics emphasizes gracefulness and agility as important factors in general success. Ability does not always win the highest score; however, the girls must project their warm personalities in order to gain better scores.

TIMLESS GOALS

Only the timelessness energies within you are aware of life's timelessness, and know that yesterday is but today's memory and tomorrow is today's dream. Many and confused are the thoughts of us all as we advance from grade to grade meeting new and difficult decisions. But, with excitement, we treasure past memories as we look to the future in search of all things good and desirable which hope ever promises.

Narrowly missing a wrestling match, Kenny Glidwell illustrates the continuity of motion.

PENDING

As we complete one phase of our lives, we begin to question our decisions so hastily made. Time continues to move no matter how circumstances behave for or against us. No man can ever be a master of his destiny. Man's life is laid in the loom of time to form a pattern which will not be revealed. This life may be described as a journey, a task, or a race.

Select your own metaphors, but the necessity of finishing is all the same. For if life is a journey, it must be completed. If life is a task, it must be finished. And if life is a race, it must be won. But may we always be reminded that the race is not always swift; that there is more to life than increasing its speed. May we look upward into the towering oak and know that it grew great and strong because it grew slowly and well.

But for Chuck, achievement did not end with the winning of the game. He was selected to go to the Tobacco Festival to represent our school. The position was honorary but he received a silver plate to remind him of it.

Many times news was forgotten — until the night before current events were due in government. Even then, many students did not take time to understand the issues. Some students even waited until the end of the nine weeks and handed in tons of them that were written in one night. Study halls provided some students with the time to do them before their government class. Surely current events were one part of the senior year that will never be forgotten.

With school readily coming to an end, most seniors' thoughts turn to the college they wish to attend. Sending off for brochures and obtaining help from a guidance counselor may ease the pain of choosing the right college. Finding out the requirements for grades and subjects to take seem to worry seniors the most. May rolls around and letters of acceptance are received, sighs of relief are heard, and many new challenges lay ahead.

EXCELLENCE — THE HIDDEN ASPIRATION

Those honored were Robert Cade, Susan Scheff, Jeff McKinzie, Heide Rowe, Doug O'Neal and Nancy Roberson.

Of the area's thirty semi-finalists, six seniors from Thomas Dale; Susan Scheff, Douglas O'Neal, Jeffrey McKinzie, Heide Rowe, Nancy Roberson, and Robert Cade were among those honored as National Merit Scholarship semi-finalists. Each of the students being considered scored at the top of a test administered to more than a million seniors. They are to submit transcripts and biographical sketches from which finalists will be selected toward the beginning of next year.

The sudden, massive influx of unsolicited mail plagues the newly acclaimed celebrities as though they breathed their intelligence and creativity overnight. Despite the mail, most of the students say they've already narrowed their choices of colleges and aren't likely to be swayed by a fancy brochure. "They're mostly form letters anyway," said Heide Rowe. "They say we're the chosen ones but they all start out, 'Dear Student'."

The excited reactions of Susan Scheff and the others were similar in that they all felt their honor was one that seemed to belong to OTHER people, not to them. The honor relieved one of Doug O'Neal's worries about going to college knowing that part of his tuition might be paid for. "Even if I don't receive any money, it is gratifying to know that my work for the past twelve years has paid off and that I am one of the top high school seniors in the country," said Doug. At the same time, Heide Rowe volunteered that, "it was satisfying to have something tangible for twelve years of hard work and studying."

Even though each semi-finalist is proud of his/her work, many doubt the prospect of financial aid. Senior Nancy Roberson commented that, "it seems that scholarships are available solely to the economically needy and the football superstar. The academic student has little hope to get any kind of help."

The attention and the honor are proudly received by all of the scholars; however, senior Robert Cade reflects honestly, "I think of it more as an expression of my ability to recognize dots."

Taking shorthand at sixty words a minute, Teresa Fine pushes far more.

Working during lunch, Teresa Mann puts in extra hours on an accounting project.

Confined to their seats for a nerve-wracking hour, business students strived to improve their typing skills of accuracy combined with speed. Senior business students, after two years of business basics and clerical background material, try to decide which field to enter. Many find figures and money matters a challenge and others relax with their electric typewriters ignoring the never ending accuracy of the modern technological portable — the calculator.

SENIORS CHANGE

The class of '77 was tired of seeing past graduating classes receive their diplomas in the same old blue and white gowns. So they decided to do something about it. "Why not break tradition," they asked the administration, "and change the colors of the gowns?"

The seniors were finally granted permission to vote on the issue. Given several color choices, the guys elected to graduate in maroon while the girls decided to stay with white.

With bored expressions, Phil Kobler and Steve Walrich wait for voters during the mock election.

THE WAY TO VAN GOGH

Everybody is unique, but Carol Pendleton participates in an activity that many people lack ability in; she paints. Carol's interest in art has existed for the past ten years, since she was seven years old.

A painting depicting the silhouette of a tree against a barn won Carol a first place title and thirty dollars at last year's Petersburg Art League's Art Show. She had an offer of fifteen dollars for a cat made of toothpicks she made, but turned it down. She has also received a second place ribbon at the Women's Club Art Show at the State Fair.

Carol's interest in art and various artists has been prompted by her family and school. Carol feels that her ability in art has been greatly accelerated at Thomas Dale. In art class students learn about different artists and their paintings. Vincent Van Gogh is a favorite artist of Carol's because of his "weird" life.

Motivation for the future includes painting which is not constant for Carol. She usually paints when the feeling moves her but she can be moved to paint when something is due in art class. After graduation, Carol would like to work for a year, then she wants to continue her education in veterinary medicine, horse training or art.

Working in art class, Carol Pendleton paints her "African Native."

As a modern day Friar, Ken Swanson awaits his turn to perform in British Literature class.

Chaucer's CANTERBURY TALES proved to be more interesting than many seniors had expected. Miss Paulette's English Literature classes enjoyed studying the Tales and becoming more involved in the characters by presenting them to their peers. Ken Swanson imitated a modern day Friar in his first period class.

The Friar in the CANTERBURY TALES was lecherous and lustful. He married women off to total strangers in order to prevent them from attaching themselves to him. A Friar was granted a district to operate. He only dealt with the rich people because that was the only method to become a high-class Friar.

Fifty's Day proved to be loads of fun for everyone — even if they did not dress for the occasion.

Enough people came decked out in fifties outfits that one felt funny if he or she were not. Seniors tended to be the best participants. For example, Jon Waters, Tim Wilson, John Magee, and Robert Medell, jived and played the "Fonz" throughout the day. Who said there was only one "Fonz?"

Certainly no one from our school.

Trying to be "tough guys," John McGee, Jon Waters, Tim Wilson, and Robert Medell wear nostalgic attire.

SERVICE RENDERED AS TEACHER AIDES

Seniors with several study halls have volunteered their services as teacher aides. As a helper they perform tasks such as marking papers, running errands, and typing material.

The aides for the science teachers, however, have always been instrumental in helping prepare scientific equipment and helping with experiments. With each dedication, the faculty is able to help students in other areas.

WANT TO BE REMEMBERED

Senior year comes as a change for most, but for a few it is just another year. They might decide, this being their senior year, that they would like to do something that Thomas Dale will remember for years to come. Being All-State in chorus, writing a great paper, or being a great athlete are some of the ways to be remembered. You will always be remembered at Thomas Dale if you just give a bit of your heart.

PAUSING

We have need of patience with those below and those above us, and with our own equals. We need to rid ourselves of criticism for those who have yet to achieve the wisdom that we have, while at the same moment, we must scale down the demands we are making on those who have achieved more wisdom and purpose in their lives than we have. Sometimes, we feel caught in the middle, and we feel pressed for the right decisions. May we have comfort in the knowledge that life runs on a divine schedule. If we could untangle the mysteries of life and unravel the energies which run through the world; if we could measure the struggles, dilemmas, and aspirations of mankind, we would find that nothing is born out of time. Everything comes at its appointed moment.

As the assigned sponsor for the Junior Class, Mrs. Jennifer Horn, a new Biology and Physics teacher became adjusted to the arduous task of sponsoring the Junior and Senior Prom. This year's duty was full of new experiences, such as, planning an off-campus prom because of the dangers and problems of the gym. It was held in a local reception hall with the usual trimmings — band, programs, photographers, and refreshments.

MARTY KEEPS ON TRUCKIN'

How would you feel if you were one of the best cross country runners in the U.S.? Marty Kibiloski meets the qualifications of a 14th place ranking in the nation for 16 and 17 year-olds. On November 6, Marty ran in the regional meet where he finished in third place.

Marty was an excellent swimmer and attributed his endurance to his swimming background. By finishing fourth last year in the entire eastern region of the U.S., he qualified for the National A.A.U. Junior Olympic Cross-Country Championships held in Houston, Texas. He was awarded High School All American; only the top 25 runners in the nation receive this honor.

Marty runs every day and during the summer months he ran over 1,050 miles. Because of his abilities, several colleges have contacted him to express their interest.

Taking a break in the halls, Marty Kibiloski talks to friends.

For many juniors, the only night that they slept a full eight hours was the night before the PSAT testing. The tests were long and very difficult but most people were glad they took them. According to Mike Norvell, "The PSAT helped me to become more familiar with the format and questions that will be given on the SAT."

Another junior commented that "even though the PSAT's were quite difficult, they were the only tests I took this year that I did not study for."

CLASS RING — DREAMS FULFILLED

Spending their lunchtime on the phone, Darla Wooldridge and Kevin Graham engage in conversation.

"One, two, three . . . seventy-six, seventy-seven . . . Hey alright! Seventy-eight at last." Such conversations filled the halls as the juniors received their class rings in December. The turning of the class ring seemed to become a new part of school activities. To many juniors, receiving the rings meant that senior privileges were soon to be discovered and graduation was near.

The class of '78 won last year's spirit banner, "The Spirit of '76," and by the middle of November this year they led in the number of points counting towards the banner. These juniors had acquired 5 points compared to the 2 received by the senior class and 2 points gained by the sophomore class by the end of football season.

On several occasions, leg power and coordination won points for the junior class when they finished first in the relay races during pep rallies.

LINWOOD DRUMS TO STATE TITLE

Preparing for national competition, Linwood Whitener practices his routine.

Linwood Whitener has taken his drumming to heart. He entered the Virginia State competition and won the title as State Champion Drum Soloist in the National Association of Rudimental Drumming in the senior division. He received a trophy and has the opportunity to compete on the national level.

When asked how he felt, he said "Receiving the state champion title is a good feeling when you realize that you have defeated the three-year consecutive champion who was also third in the nation."

Whether he follows through with a musical career or not, he will always reserve a place in his heart for music.

The main focus of the Junior Class activities was the prom. Most class activities were oriented around the prom, such as the money making projects. The magazine drive was held in October and was successful. They sold a total of $3935.71 worth of magazines. The amount exceeded last year's sales by $132.74. Marty Kibloski, the Junior Class president, sold $346.43 of the total sales. He received $35 for selling the most magazines. Anyone who sold more than two magazines had their names placed into a hat for a drawing with a $20 prize which was won by Brenda Gerald.

The first intelligent expression of the infant is wonder; this quickly develops into active curiosity, until life becomes an exciting, yet uncertain voyage of discovery.

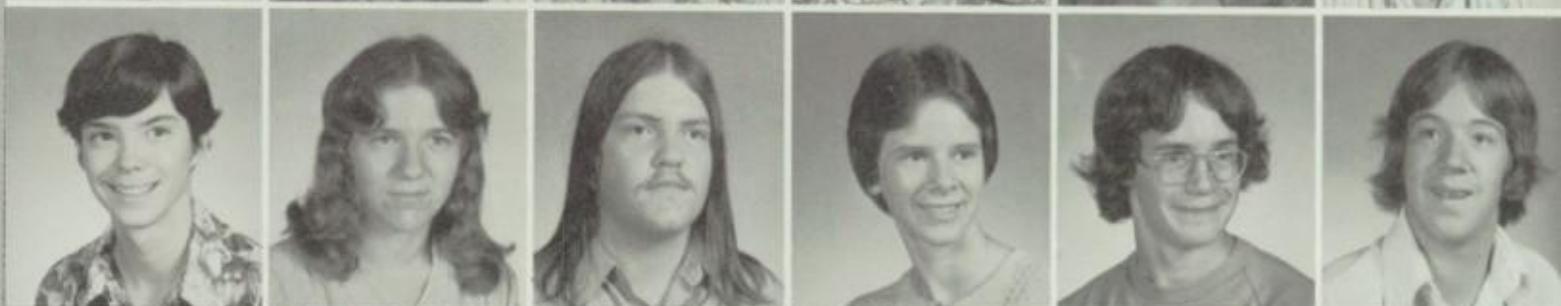

Often we feel the uncertainty and confusion that time brings. Time stops for no reason. There is a definite disadvantage in hesitation, for after even the smallest moment has slipped away, it is gone forever, although we are given new wisdom and assurance to handle the moments yet to come. As we undertake new beginnings, we rely on time to carry decisions to us that we may have the strength and wisdom to handle effectively without hesitation.

SOPHS OVERCOME SHYNESS MAGICALLY

During English, Clay Beale demonstrates diapering a baby.

Each activity seemed to bring out a special part of each student, especially sophomores. "Houdini" visited the school and presented his mysterious magic show. He appeared to have magically drawn sophomores out of the decked bleachers to assist him. Carolyn Atkins drew eight cards from an oversized deck. She did not reveal the faces until "Houdini" had used his mental telepathy to tell her correctly what each card was. Such events seemed to push the little bit of shyness out of every sophomore.

CAN I HAVE THE KEYS DAD?

Early morning and late afternoon hours proved sophomore eagerness to obtain a valuable identification card. The mug shot allowed them the freedom to operate a motor vehicle without adult supervision. It was often referred to as a driver's permit.

Thirty-six class hours and fourteen behind-the-wheel hours were required to qualify for the long sought license. Other qualifications were to have both parents' or guardians' consent, to be at least sixteen years old, and to listen to the judge before he issued the permit.

New privileges in the cafeteria surprised many sophomores. They were not expecting ice cream sandwiches and popsicles as an extra in the lunch line. Many skipped the usual plate lunch and bought two ice cream bars and a milk instead. Demerits weren't even issued for eating ice cream. The only requirement was that it had to be eaten in the cafeteria.

Sophomores also found that lunch was more relaxing because they did not have to remain in the cafeteria throughout the entire lunch period. Such practices were unheard of in junior high school.

Contemplating his next chess move, Chip Manuel anticipates an easy victory.

"I'M NOT THE 'BIG DOG' ANY LONGER"

"The teachers treat us like humans instead of animals."

"I'm not the 'big dog' any longer. We are at the bottom again."

"We can have ice cream or popsicles every day of the week."

"The social life is definately too wild with all the parties."

"There is always an activity for me to become involved with."

During Spanish, sophomores search for answers."

After graduating from the rough years of intermediate and junior high school, sophomores appreciated the freedoms allowed in high school. According to sophomore Jill Yancey, "The demerit system here is much easier than it was at Salem Jr. High. I enjoy the new freedom."

Betty Hartmann commented that, "Last year in my school they would never have taken time away from a class to have an activity period as they do here. I think it is a good policy because more students can be involved in more activities. Also, there are many more clubs so most people can be involved in something they like to do."

Rich Scheff found the atmosphere in junior high "like a circus. High school is more civilized."

Every Wednesday, the members of the J.V. football team were treated by the cheerleading squad . . . with a bag of candy. The purpose of these goodies was to enhance the players to do their best and to let them know that the girls supported them all the way.

IWE—WORK PROGRAM FOR TENTH GRADERS

Left to Right: Dennis Vaughan, Mike Jordan, David Edwards, Larry Grant, Steve Turner, Anthony Branch, Dwayne Davidson, Larry McCabe, Jerry Sydnor, Ken Walker.

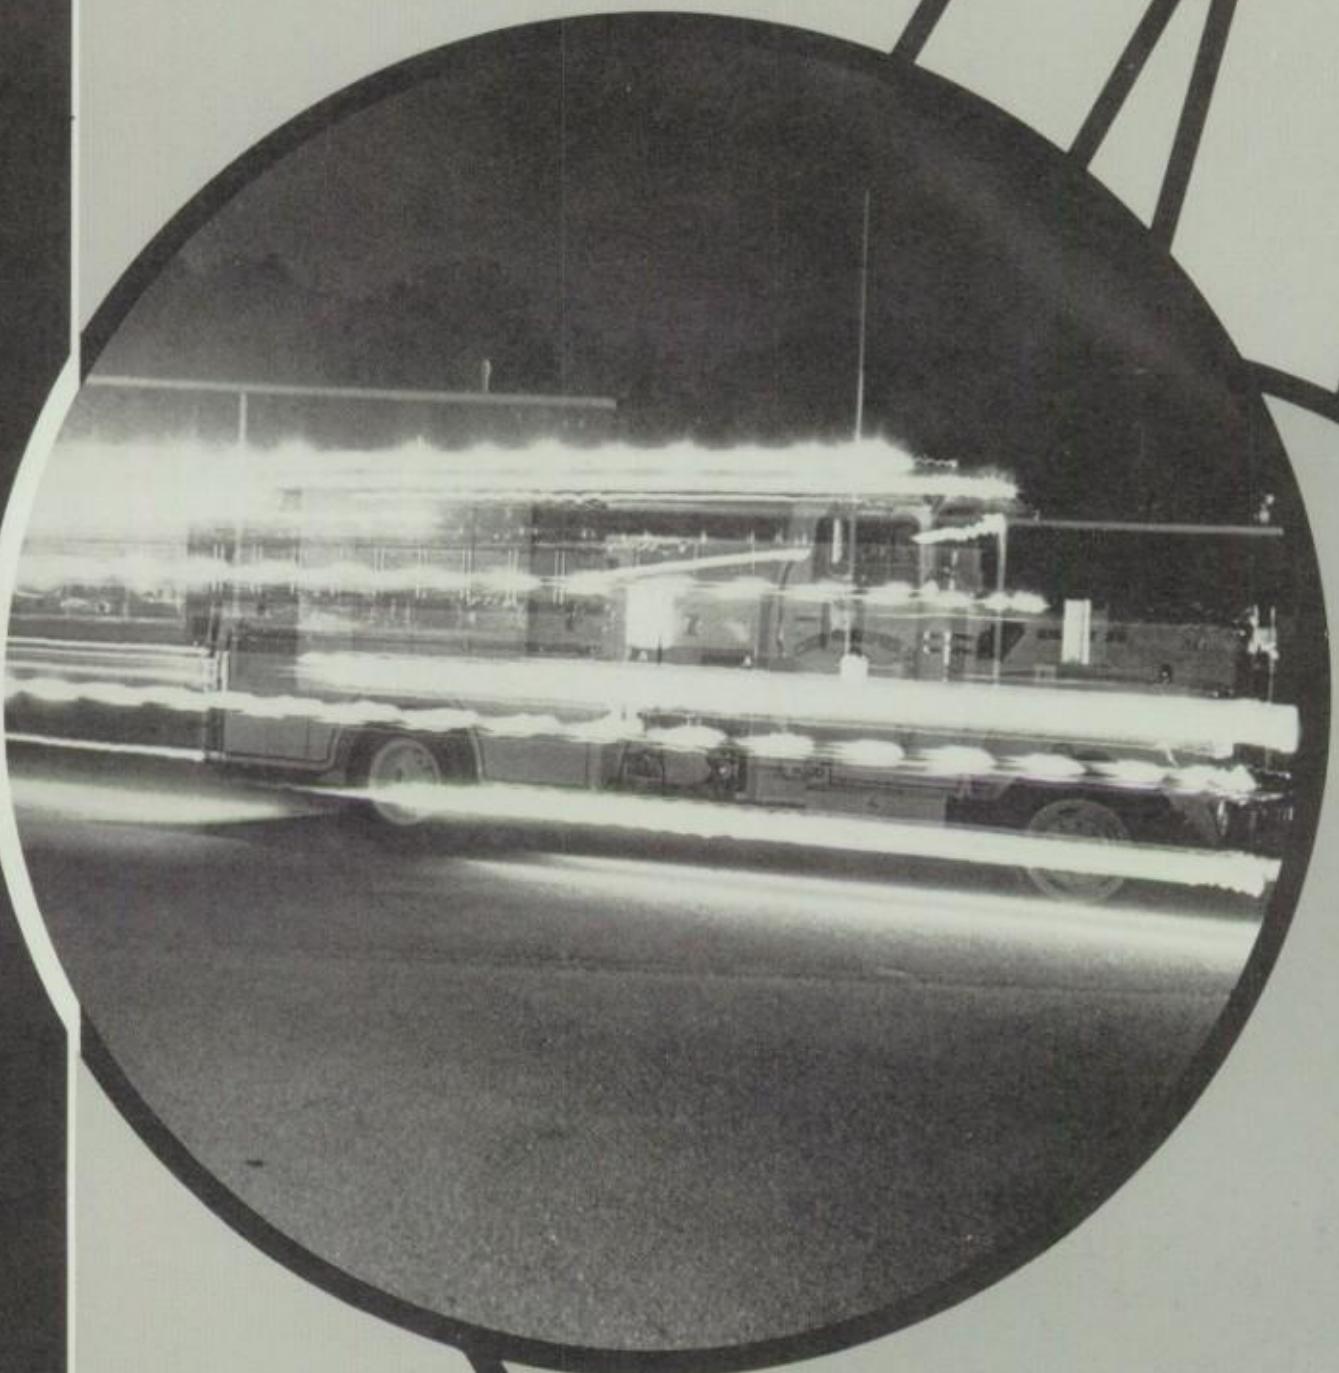

I.W.E. is a work-program designed for students taking only required courses and working the rest of the day. It offers a chance to those students who are interested only in a work program with limited classroom instruction. The program has been used for four years and has proven to be very effective.

HUMAN ENERGY

The value of living within a sincere and honest community — when one man consciously by means of certain external signs, hands on to others feelings he has encountered through time and then these others are infected by these feelings and also experience them.

EACH DAY IS NEW;

Time ticks away as the sun sets on another day.

THE END CAN BE A NEW BEGINNING

Reflections of faces through the sunsets of life capture the essence of time. Days passing one into another behold the experiences of life. The splendor and beauty continue forever, never to be recreated into the same experience. Life itself passes into the wind only to be remembered by those who withstood the test of time. So remember the days that reflect your life by looking into the sunsets of memories.

LOOK- ING ON . . .

It's a long way
Up there;
A long way
To where it's going.
Sailing
Into the future,
It's traveling away
From earthbound.
Never will it reveal,

The secrets
Of the clouds
That tell me
It's a long way.

Far above the clouds
I find
Memories of the past

And dreams
Of my tomorrows.
I'm holding a string,

I think I'm gonna
Let it go,
Let it go as high
As it will.
As endless as time,

My dreams
Are timeless.
Move on to tomorrow
Where I will live
And create,
And remember.

Far left: The CONDOR, a gas balloon for the travel log films, gradually gains momentum as it floats over the school grounds. Far lower left: Upon dusk at the front field of Thomas Dale, The CONDOR is directed into flight preparation. Left: The balloon is guided into a timeless flight over the wooded Chester area.

Right: As the '76 chorus homecoming float rolls across the trodden Chesterfield County fairgrounds, Robert Medell, Mark Ritter, and Raymond Clouthier portray patriotism. Far upper right: Traveling across America, the Bicentennial Wagon Train pauses for a few hours on the front lawn of Thomas Dale High School. Far lower right: The interest the Wagon Train horses brought to the area children could only be measured by the glow on their faces.

MOVING ON . . .

Life is a journey through which individuals travel from one place to another. Individuals provide the source of meaning for that untimely and eternal voyage. Identify yourself with the hopes and fears and longings of those around you, learning to interpret their thoughts and moods. Experiment and develop honesty and independence, gaining confidence in yourself first and preparing to face the world later. Take notice of every hour, every second of your routine life. Open your eyes and ears to absorb life in new meanings, new clarity and new colors.

Cherish the essence of Thomas Dale High School — once you capture it do not let it go, for in later years a graduate will never again be able to so completely surround himself by his peers and be a part of this incessant journey.

ROTATION OF TIME

We are the axis on which time rotates. As people board a ride at the State Fair, anticipation and excitement well up to glow from the inner soul of each person. This motion of time continues for eternity capturing glimpses of life in a panorama view just as a ride in motion rotates through space. Space, time and motion are essential to life adding and creating inner emotions which become a blur when time moves too fast. Only when a pause of these elements occur will change be inevitable.

Top: At dusk, the paratrooper ride at Chesterfield County Fair stands momentarily still, awaiting the large crowds which arrive at nightfall.
Bottom: After gaining speed; the paratrooper ride exhibits a dazzling spectrum of color.

Friday night football, afternoons at Cloverleaf Mall, and parties at the "Log Cabin" provided entertainment for those who participated. No matter what you chose, relaxation and fun were dominate. Minutes turned to hours, and hours into days, and instantly the week-end had passed. Monday morning began a new week regardless of your week-end life-style.

Upper left: Beyond the spurting fountain of Cloverleaf Mall, the rushing of shoppers continues and area students often bump into each other while browsing through the various shops and entertainment centers. Upper right: A favorite hang-out among some students, the "Log Cabin" of the Gamma Delta fraternity hosts many parties throughout the school year. Lower right: Before a photography session, Kyle Weidlich clown's with his teammates in his best dressed efforts. Lower left: In the offensive line up, the team awaits the hike during practice after school in preparation for Friday night's game.

ACTIVE EXERTION

Through our participation in sports we not only learn how to play a game and how to stay physically fit; we learn to bear up under loss and accept success with humility. We learn maneuvers to take advantage of the time we are given and most importantly we learn determination. The difficulty, we do immediately; the impossible takes a little bit longer.

A GOOD EFFORT ON THE DIAMOND

The diamonders defeated Dinwiddie who finished second to Prince George. Colonial Heights lost 6-0 as Jeff Sexton hurled against them a one-hitter. Also, the team slid over Petersburg and Manchester for a final standing of four wins and six losses.

Although they did not place in the district finals, the team played a good season.

Heading for first base, Wayne Butler realizes he will have to slide.

Having fond thoughts of first base, Richard Meadows prepares to swing.

The many years experience of Beth Robbins helped the team at the plate and on the field.

The pitching of Janet Luttermann strikes out opponent.

LACK OF EXPERIENCE HINDERS SEASON

"Throw it to home . . .""I pitched that too low . . .""One more out and we've made it . . .". These and many others were the thoughts running through the team's mind during each game. Combining fielding, hitting, and coaching, the Girl's softball team was able to finish the season with a 5-11 record. The team plans to improve their record in '77.

LOSE LOVE AND GAIN GAME

Led by Renee Buterbaugh, the girls' team finished with a 4-3 winning season. Buxton Sports Club provided courts for all home matches. Returning swingers expect a better season in '77.

The talented boys' team captured third in the district behind Midlothian and Manchester with a 9-5 record. With most players returning, the championship seems so close at hand for the '77 season.

After school practice improves Jeri Peck's forehand.

ULTIMATE GOAL— EAGLE

Bottom Row: Tom Doughtery, Jack Williams, Scott Taylor, Keith Burton. Top Row: Johnny Branson, Charles Fletcher, Lee Sullins, Steve Snead, Carroll Webb, Coach Robert Stacy.

While looking for the Great Pumpkin, Steve Snead finds a golf ball.

Tending the pin, Johnny Branson anticipates 35 foot putt from Steve Snead.

Inexperience caused many losses throughout the golf season. Only two lettermen, Tom Doughtery and Lee Sullins, returned to the '76 team. Doughtery represented T. D. in the regional competition held at the Oak Hill Golf Course. The final rating of 15 wins and nine losses placed T. D. fifth in the district. Five lettermen are expected to return to the team in '77 for a winning season.

TRACK STARTS OFF WITH A BANG

Bottom Row: Debbie Helton, Judy Turner, Christie Linkous, Cindy Hudson, Gail Weedon, Rosland Twilley, Shirley Uhrig, Julie Bradman, Amanda Parker, Sharon Goode, Cathy Williams, Jill Molter, Susan Welch, Susie Strong, Cindy Romig. Top Row: Eva Hjarne, Theresa Bartol, Nancy Roberson, Mae Mae Daniel, Debra Hartman, Barbara Lively, Sherry Massey, Bonnie Holmes, Sharon Parker, Kitty Strawmeyer, Cindy Freed, Tina Ethington, Phyllis Pooley, Jennifer Wells, Alda Brown.

Extremely close knit, the team thrives on team spirit and effort. The girls placed third in the district with a score of 78, only eleven points behind the first place team.

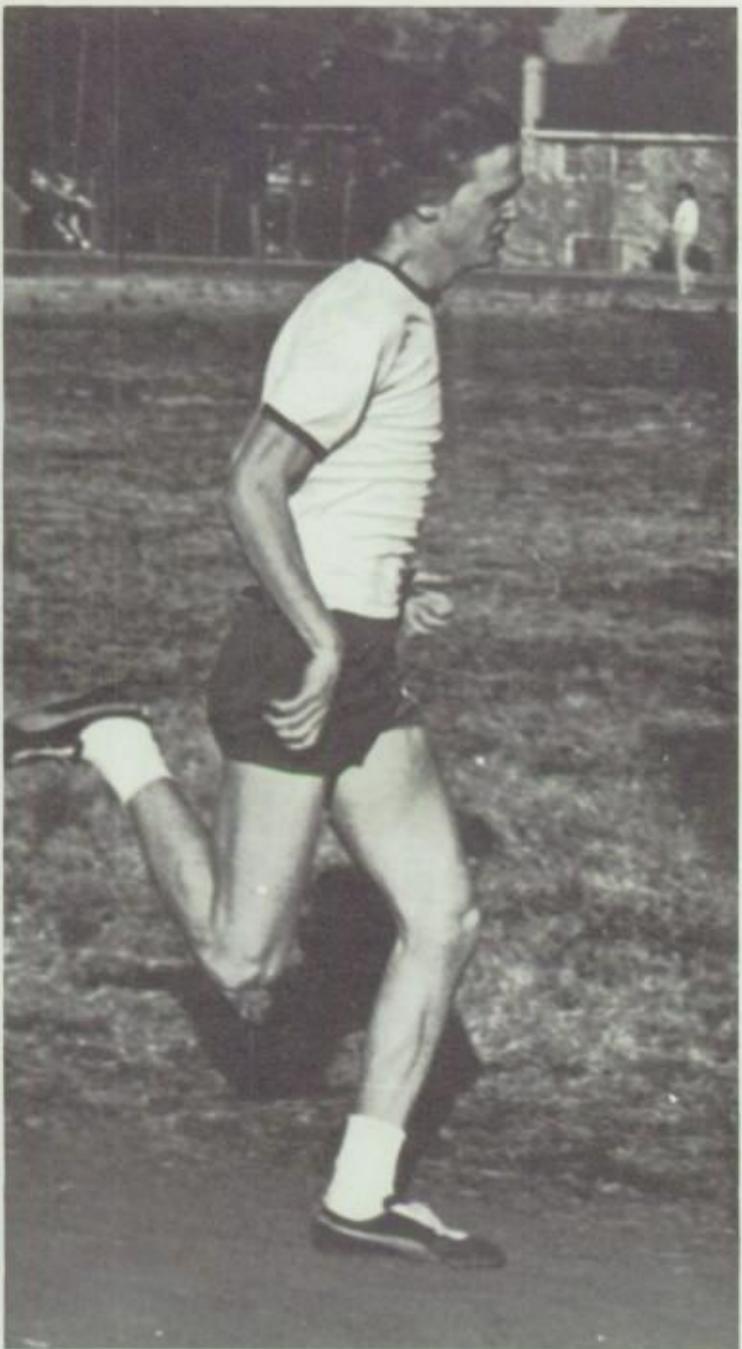

Records were set by this team, even though they lost two of their meets. Mae Mae Daniel set the 220 record at 27.5 and Jill Molter placed first in the district high jump at 4'10". With outstanding runners returning, the team will be a strong contender for the District again.

Moments after the starting signal, Sharon Goode, Susan Welch, Sherry Massey, and Eva Hjarne head for a successful finish.

Shoes or not, Mae Mae Daniel runs a good practice session.

Straining to improve his time, Glen Chalkley races on.

Run! Jump! Throw! "What is it?" "It's the track team." Although the team had some of the best individual material in the district, it lacked the team strength necessary to win the championship.

The team, however, placed third in the district with a 5-2 record. This proves that a young team can succeed.

High jump isn't too high for Eddie Buyalos.

COACH HOLDREN DRIVES TOWARD WINNING YEAR

After throwing the ball to a teammate, Jan Beggs heads down court to obtain her offensive position.

Ranked with an 8-8 record, the Girls' Varsity basketball team placed fifth in the District. The two top scorers, Sherry Massey and Sue Lees, and leading rebounder, Sharon Parker saw their last season of high school basketball. Due to her speed and agility, sophomore Teresa Gozzo moved up from the JV team. According to Miss Holdren, the team is the best she has ever worked with. Although the team lost to Midlothian, the girls consider it the best game they played all season. Robertine Sokohl reflects back on the season saying, "Midlothian was a tough contender for us and we did well to hold them down to a 52-53 victory."

Routing in favor of her teammate, Wilnette Branch yells at the referee for what she thinks is a bad call.

JV TEAM SPRINGS TO TOP; 8-3 RECORD

Bottom Row: Terrie Amis, Maureen Ham, Natalie Kerley, Mary Price. Top Row: Tammy Doud (Manager), Stephanie Stovall, Ellen Michalek, Chella Street, Nacia Mendenhall, Linda Roberson (Manager), Coach Nanette Fisher.

In despair because of the team's performance, Chella Street walks off the court during a time out.

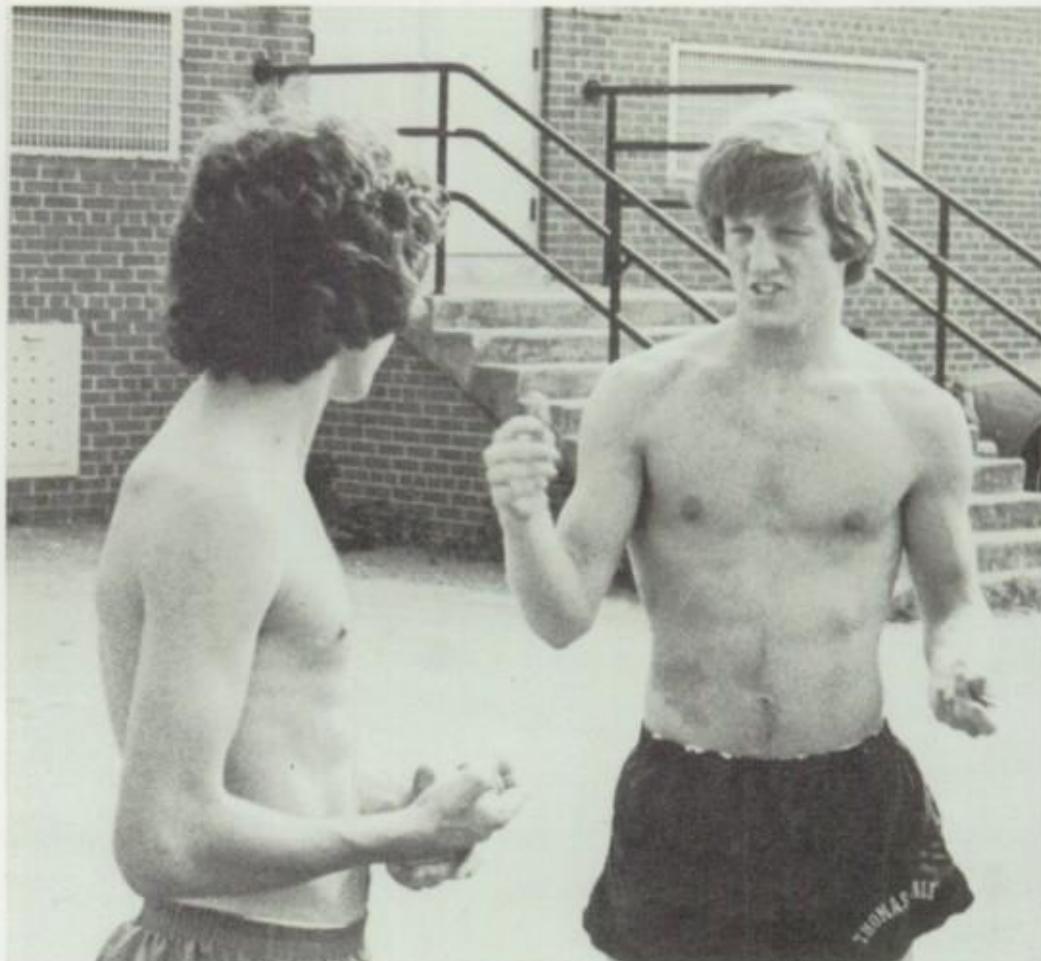

Giving her team some strategy points, Coach Fisher discusses some tricky maneuvers during a time out.

Who would want to see a girls' basketball game? Much less a JV girls basketball game? Well, if you did not, you missed some of the most exciting sports action at Thomas Dale this year. These sophomore girls dribbled, passed, and shot their way to a second place finish in the Central District, the highest placement in the history of the team. Three players, Stephanie Stovall, Chella Street, and Terrie Amis provided exceptional play for Coach Nanette Fisher, and showed outstanding promise for future of girls' basketball.

MILES AWAIT CROSS COUNTRY TEAM

EXCITING . . . FAST PACED . . . FANTASTIC . . . Faster than a speeding jet. All these expressions and many more describe the number one team in the District. Defeating Colonial Heights (their first opponent), the team leaped for a good start. Setting records at age 16, Marty Kibiloski ran the C.H. 2.9 mile course in 14:46 minutes. Favored runners Jim Uzel, Marty Kibiloski, Doug O'Neal, Jack Kain, and Tim McDaniel will lead the team on to expected victories and hopefully to the District Championship.

Explanation by Jack Kain about a course helps Marty Kibiloski.

Taking practice with a stride, John Kennedy, Doug Peck, and Seth Richardson run.

Exercise helps David Thompson, Bill Long, and Seth Richardson.

Feet flying, Marty Kibiloski perfects his record by running at 5 o'clock every morning.

KNIGHTS INTERCEPT 2nd PLACE

The 2-8 record in the 1975 season was reversed to an 8-2 record for the 1976 season. With a hard-nosed defense and a supporting offense, the Varsity Football team marched its way up to 2nd place in the District. Along with a winning season, the weekly candy from the cheerleaders somehow seemed to make the sweat, blood and long hours worth the effort. According to the assistant Coach Wayne Rash, "The seniors put out a tremendous amount of leadership and I only hope that next year's seniors will do the same. Also, the pep rallies really boost the guys' egos and the spirit lingers over into the night.

FUN AND GAMES

The night air chilled spectators with an exciting and victorious scent for the Knights as they trampled over Prince George during the '76 Homecoming game. Our boys played an overwhelming game and defeated the Royals 43-14. As the game progressed, it proved to be one of the funniest of the season. Kyle Weidlich, a stocking 6'3" 190 pounds appeared small and helpless next to his brother, Kent Weidlich who ran onto the field during game time and picked his brother up in the air and turned him around with a celebrating hug for a touchdown. No one seemed to realize that Kyle had scored six points until he threw his arms into the air wild with enthusiasm.

For the highlight of the evening, Chuck Mezera danced to the band as he waited for the next play. To say the least, Coach Westfall was not at all impressed with the exhibition, but who cared — it was homecoming!

Making room for Henry Gordon to pass through, Warren King executes a strategic play.

Bottom Row: Tim Glass, Jeff Reed, Joe Smith, James Friend (Co-Captain), Glenn Andrews (Co-Captain), Steve Reed, David Sinclair, Terry Hogwood. Row 2: Jeff Wariner, Robbie Lynch, David Poulsen, Tommy Morrison, Robbie Engles, Braden Woods, Russell Parker, David Adams. Row 3: Coach Mr. Sherlock, Warren King, Steve Magee, Robert Luckie, John Williams, Kenny West, Mike Fields. Top Row: Terry Nester, Kenny Rivers, Tom Reed, Bill Anderson, Tim Collins, Ricky Toone, Joey Sowers.

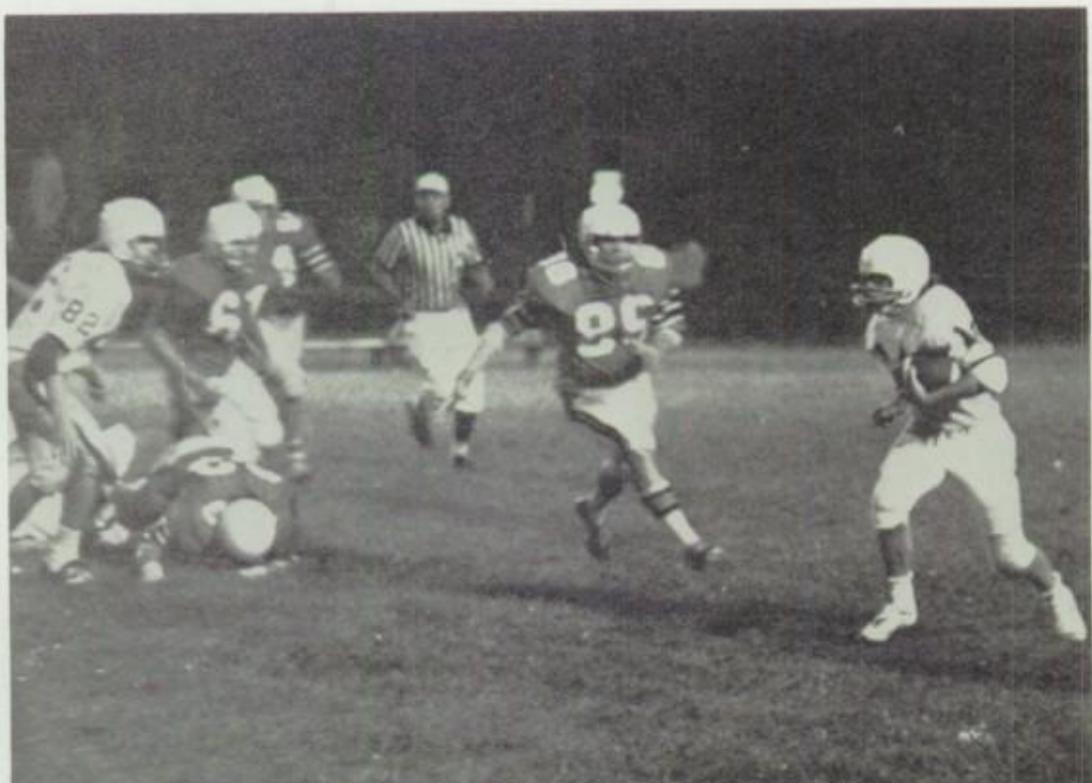

Trying to recover a fumble, Steve Reed (19) gets needed assistance from Russell Parker (45).

SPIRITED J.V. AWAITS VARSITY YEARS

Striving forward to get that needed yardage, a nearly tackled Tim Collins (31) gets extra help from Russell Parker (45) and James Friend (60).

Pro football players are made out of the same spirited material as JV players. The 6-3 Petersburg game was tough for the Junior Varsity team. Showing extreme vitality and school spirit throughout the game, the team proved that losing a game would not dampen its spirit. As the players walked off the field, the Pep band began playing the Alma Mater. The young men retained enough of that pride and spirit to stop and listen attentively as the school song played.

Trying to put some needed points on the scoreboard, Tom Morrison hustles past Petersburg team.

CLOSE GAMES HEIGHTEN ENTHUSIASM

Their hopes confirmed, Wayne Butler, Greg Kilbourne, and Lee Sullins watch the ball swish through the net.

Executing a skillful aim, Paul Redd dreams of two Firing from 25 feet, Wayne Butler cans a jumper.

Scoring protection attempts, Bryan Hinton aims for the hoop.

Going for a lay up, Lee Sullins interferes with opposition.

Marred by more injuries than any other team in the district, the Boys' Varsity Basketball Team amazed its fans because at press time, they were tied for fourth place with a 7-6 district record. Lee Sullins and Paul Redd led the scoring with Andrew Lewis and Greg Kilbourne trailing by only a small margin. At one point during the season, all four players were in the top ten district scoring list. In the longest district game of the year (four overtimes), the team lost heartbreakingly to Prince George. Following the Prince George game, the upset over Hopewell rose the spirits that had sunk with the Colonial Heights defeat.

At the Hermitage game, The Knights snatched the game by a one point lead with a foul shot by Greg Kilbourne in the last ten seconds of the game. Wayne Butler cinched the Dinwiddie game in a similar manner. He swished the net in the crucial seconds before the end of the game with a one point victory.

CO-CAPTAIN PAUL REDD INSPIRES TEAM

Setting his sights on the net, Greg Kilborne shoots.

As Horace Johnson guards his man, Andrew Lewis skillfully dribbles toward the hoop.

Jumping higher than his Meadowbrook opponent, Paul Redd tries the ball.

Defying guardsmen, Andrew Lewis expertly passes the ball.

Jump-ball won by Paul Redd, Knights put the ball back in play for two more points.

Senior Paul Redd is a leader on the Varsity Basketball Team in scoring with a 16.1 average. In his two years on the varsity squad, he has totaled 729 points. Hopewell, according to Redd, was the toughest game he has ever played in. Although he felt that Hopewell was the hardest team, Calvin Sykes, from Prince George was hard to cover. Meadowbrook, Redd felt, was the best game he had played. He scored thirty points that game.

During the games, Redd played to win and when the team was losing, he strived to play harder. Although he believes basketball is just as an exciting sport as football, Redd feels the former did not receive the spirited crowds as the latter.

PRIDE SPURS JV SUCCESS

The Petersburg J.V. Basketball team was supposed to have been the toughest in J.V. Basketball in the District. However, our cagers proved the supposition untrue by defeating them. They held an excellent 11-5 record with two games to go. The record was exceptional because of the many problems the team faced all season. Firstly, the 6'7" Brian Hinton moved up to the Varsity squad. As soon as he moved up, the pressure was put on hard. Hinton was forced into the starting line-up in his first varsity game. He showed the Hopewell Blue Devils that he could, as a sophomore, stand up under pressure. In that game, he made four out of four foul shots in the last minute of the game.

Trying to work the ball inside, Marty Turek searches for a passing lane to Bryan Hinton.

Watching the ball clip the cords, Henry Gordon and Marty Turek plan defensible strategy.

Succumbing to the jumping ability of the Generals, Bryan Hinton loses the tip off.

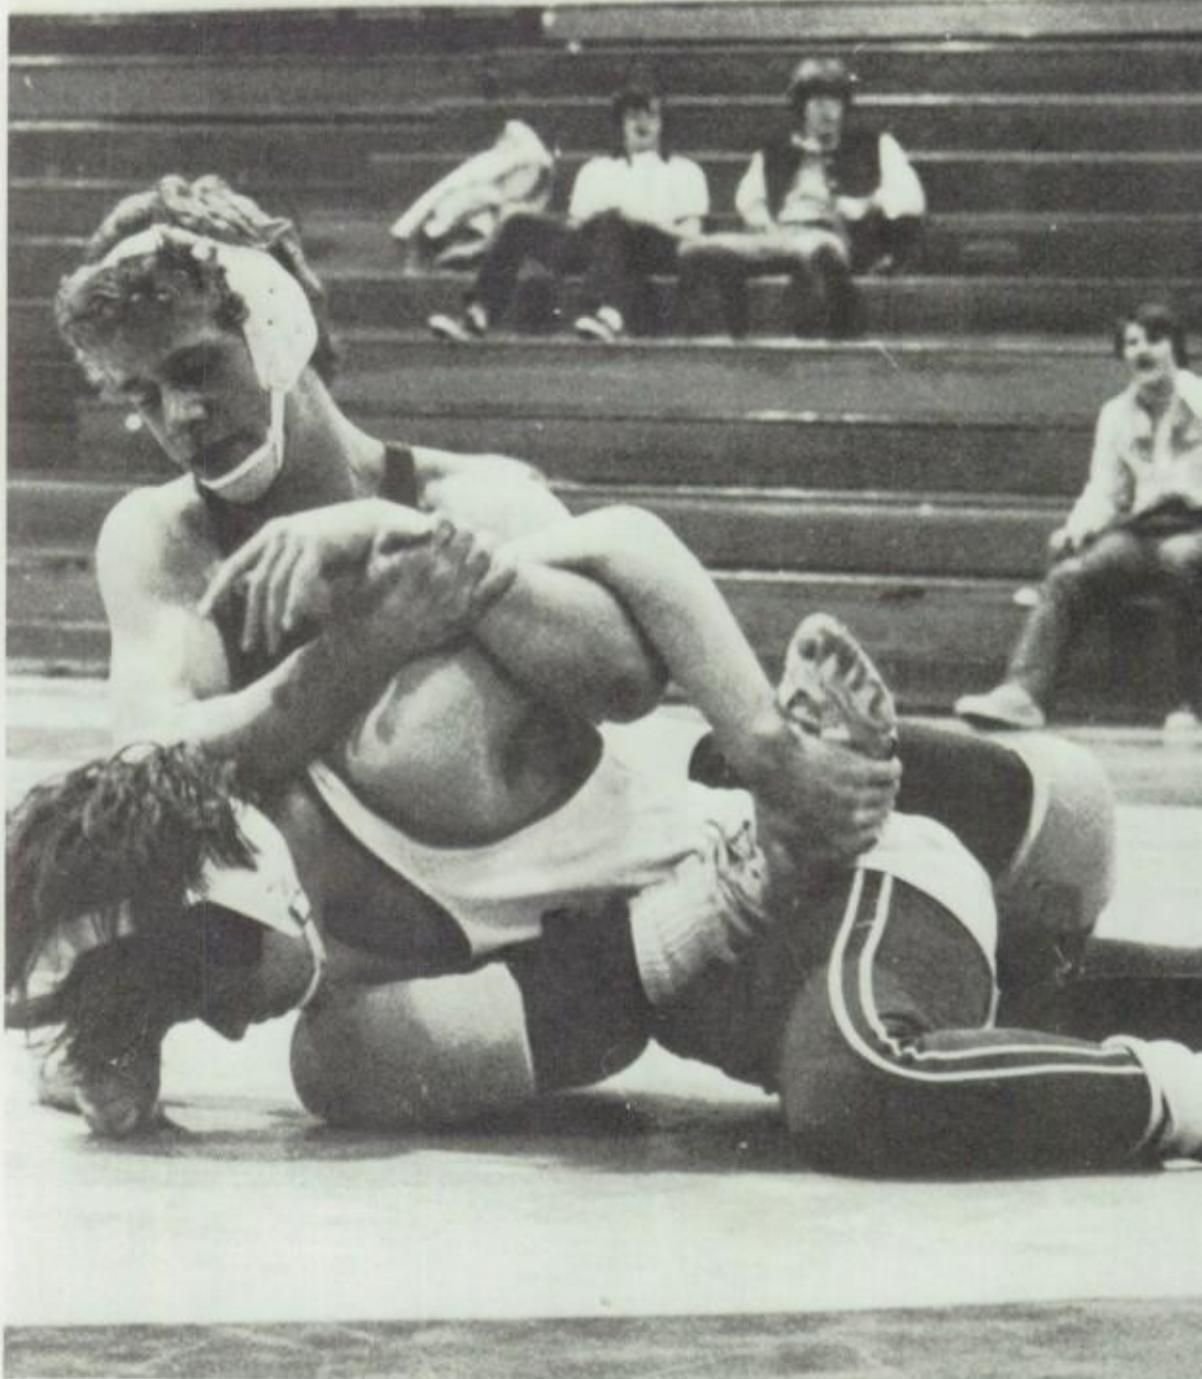

Looking for a backdoor pass, Marty Turek spots Joe Smith.

While on the J.V. squad, Hinton made only 40% of his foul shots. When he moved up to varsity, his foul shooting improved as he scored on sixteen out of his first seventeen foul shots as a varsity player. He made each of the baskets while under tremendous pressure. Hinton had been the J.V. hope and after his loss, the team had to rebuild its strength. Later, four players flunked off the team and a total of three starters left the team. Going through two or three rebuildings was tough and the squad was commended highly by Coach Sherlock for their efforts. According to Sherlock, "they could have rolled over and played dead but they didn't."

Following a disappointing last year overall record of 5-8, wrestlers spent their summer physically preparing themselves for a more optimistic '76-'77 season. Practice began in early November, an entire month before the season actually started, but wrestling takes endless practice before achieving an even slight chance for success.

Success came in many ways. Bret Doud pinned Deaver of Manchester in 27 seconds for the fastest pin, Jon Waters held an impressive undefeated 13-0 overall record and David Thatcher once again manifested what it is like to possess the natural ability to wrestle. The season's record took a complete reversal with an 8-5 overall record.

Although the district tournament was a team effort, the individual victory was what the wrestler strived to achieve, even more so than during regular season. Three of the twelve wrestlers who participated in the tournament reached that number one title, David Thatcher at 138, Jon Waters at 167 and unseeded Bill Ellinger at 112 who created the biggest upset of the tourney. Even though the team walked out third in the tournament, three strolled out number one.

Exerting a strong hold, district champ David Thatcher breaks down his Highland Springs adversary

WRESTLING SEASON MAKES REVERSAL

In complete control, district champ Jon Waters takes down his Midlothian foe.

At 105 Kevin Boyer attempts to hold his Midlothian opponent close to the mat.

Waiting for an opening, Mike Gliniak prepares to shoot in.

SELF-MOTIVATION

No man can reveal to you anything but that which already lies half asleep in the origin of your knowledge. If a man is a wise and true educator, he does not persuade you to enter into the realm of his own knowledge, but rather guides you to the threshold of your own mind — a process which takes the time you allow it to take.

For the first time, Thomas Dale put into effect the computerized report card. With the scheduling of classes numerous periodic reports, and reprogramming of the computer with grade changes, the teachers and assistant principal, Mrs. Daisy P. Reames had much paperwork. The administration made preparations for next year's expected 1700 student body. Several problems had to be considered in making the adjustments of a 1400 capacity school to house 1700 people. A new master schedule had to be made including a session with four lunch periods. Among the other changes planned to go into effect next year is the earlier school day.

COMPUTERED REPORT CARD

1. With golfing as a favorite activity, Mrs. Daisy P. Reames shows her putting skills. 2. An avid sportsman, Mr. Louis Pierce manifests his form in archery. 3. Principal for twenty-three years, J. Wilson Crump goes over the usual business that keeps the school in order.

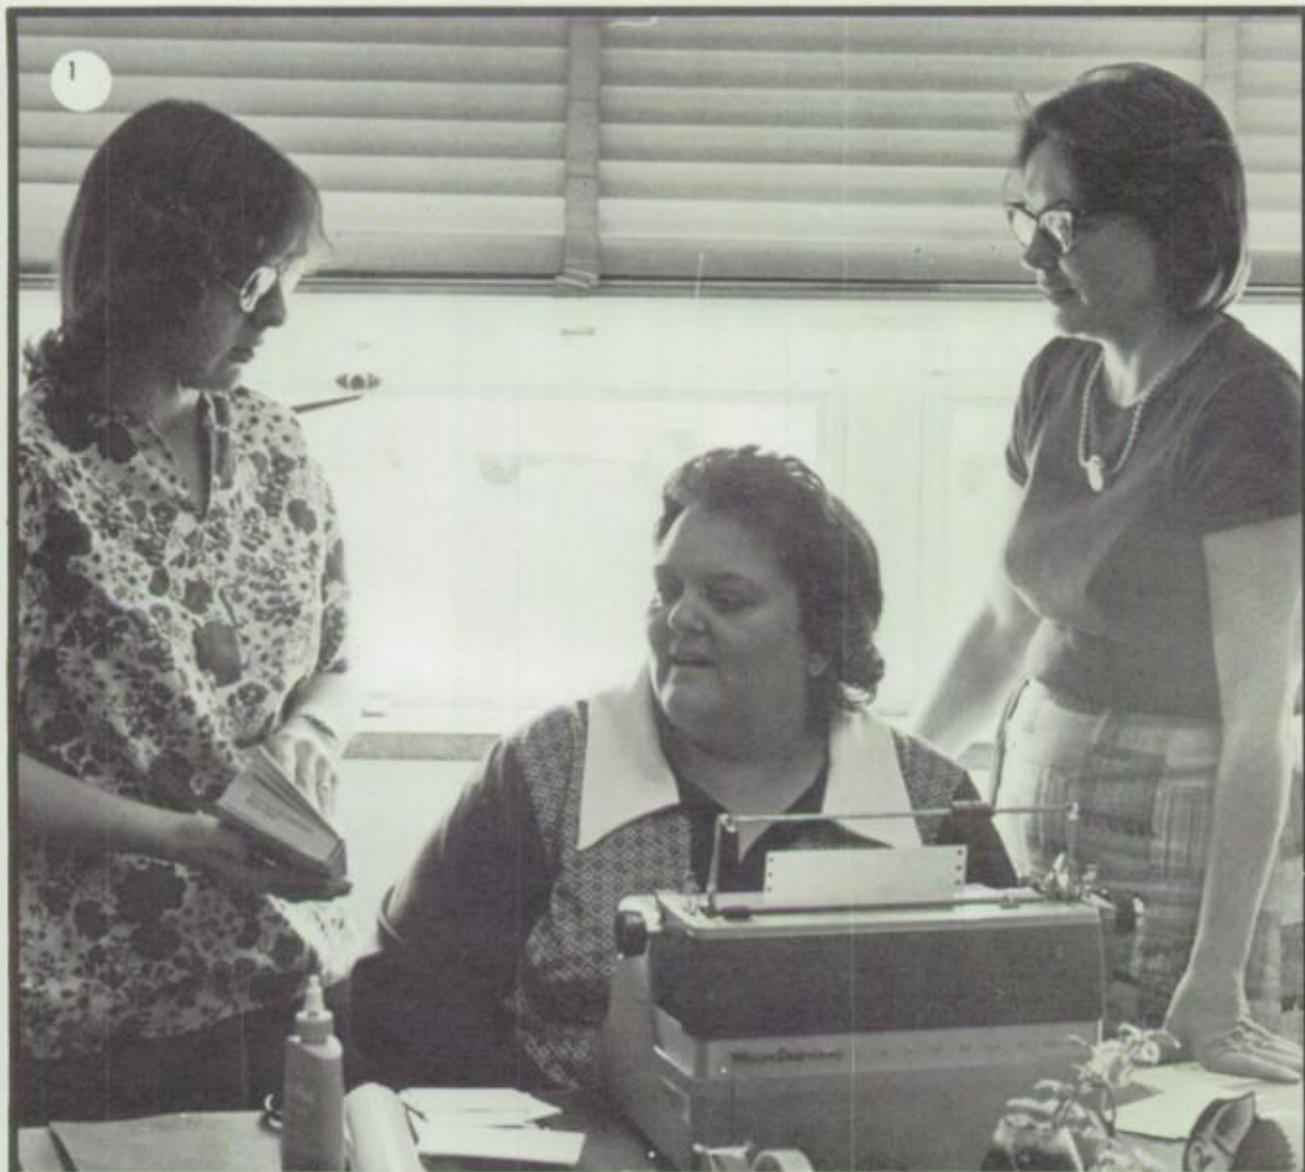

Office personnel kept busy by answering telephones, completing forms, typing, and filling out payroll. They had to cope with the questions and problems of the many students who constantly moved in and out of the office.

The secretaries were faced with the additional problem of keeping finances such as parking permits, rental fees for lockers, and activity fees. Each of the funds had a separate roster but the money was kept in the same green metallic box.

OFFICE IS BUSY PLACE

1. Librarians Ms. Katherine Welsh, Mrs. Shirley Rapalee, and Mrs. Marjorie Clarke discuss a pending question on a book. 2. Office secretary, Mrs. Marian Reichart updates the financial ledger. 3. The office organization of the office is partially in the hands of Mrs. Iris Marsh.

As a result of Mrs. Nancy Marshall not returning this year as a counselor, Mrs. Magnolia Patron came to replace her to provide counseling and career planning for students. Mrs. Patron, along with the other counselors, helped to administer the PSAT's, SAT's, and Achievement tests and assisted students and their parents in understanding the tests' scores.

COUNSELOR JOINS STAFF

1. Taking care any questions, Mrs. Nancy Broughton has a conference with Mike Jordan. 2. With cooking as a favorite avocation, Mrs. Shelby Porter prepares a dish for her children. 3. Guidance counselor, Mrs. Juanita Hammond, looks through a PSAT booklet for her junior homerooms. 4. Talking over college possibilities, Mrs. Magnolia Patron gives some advice.

ENSEMBLE GETS CLASS

After a lot of years of talk about incorporating a period into the curriculum for the Jazz Ensemble, this year got the ok. Instead of having to practice after school whenever possible, the 6th period enabled the Jazz Ensemble to practice more often.

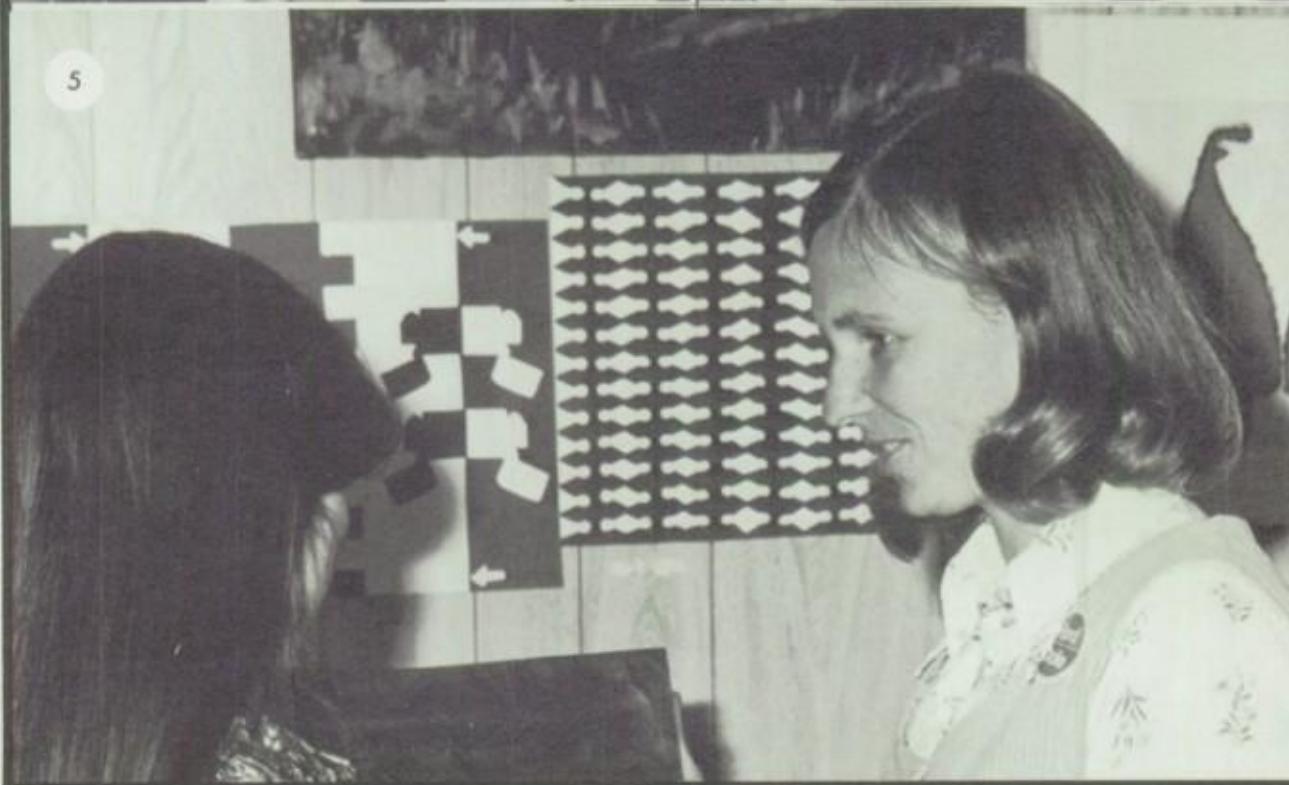

On November 23rd, the Jazz Ensemble had its first concert of the year. Even after advertising and promotion, disappointingly only a handful of people came. But the Jazz Ensemble actually was not too concerned, for after all, it was just having the chance to jam together as a group.

Due to the realization of the music department and the counselors, the music theory course was added to the curriculum this year. Students who planned to major in music needed a class to prepare them for college courses in music.

Mr. William Buck taught styles and techniques for music writing, and concentrated on ear training. Students wrote their own music, beginning with simple triads and advancing to more difficult pieces.

After many weeks of tossing money into contribution jars for a trip to D.C., in October the art classes boarded a bus and headed for the capitol city. The classes went to Hershorne Museum and the National Gallery of Art to examine the various types of styles and composition in art.

1. Conducting, Mr. James Scheile brings the stringed instruments into harmony. 2. In preparation of a concert, Mr. William Buck conducts the band. 3. Mrs. Jane Roop pauses between classes. 4. With her collie, Mrs. Harriet Bruce prepares for one of her classes. 5. Art instructor, Mrs. Connie Finkler, talks with Tracy Seal about metal art.

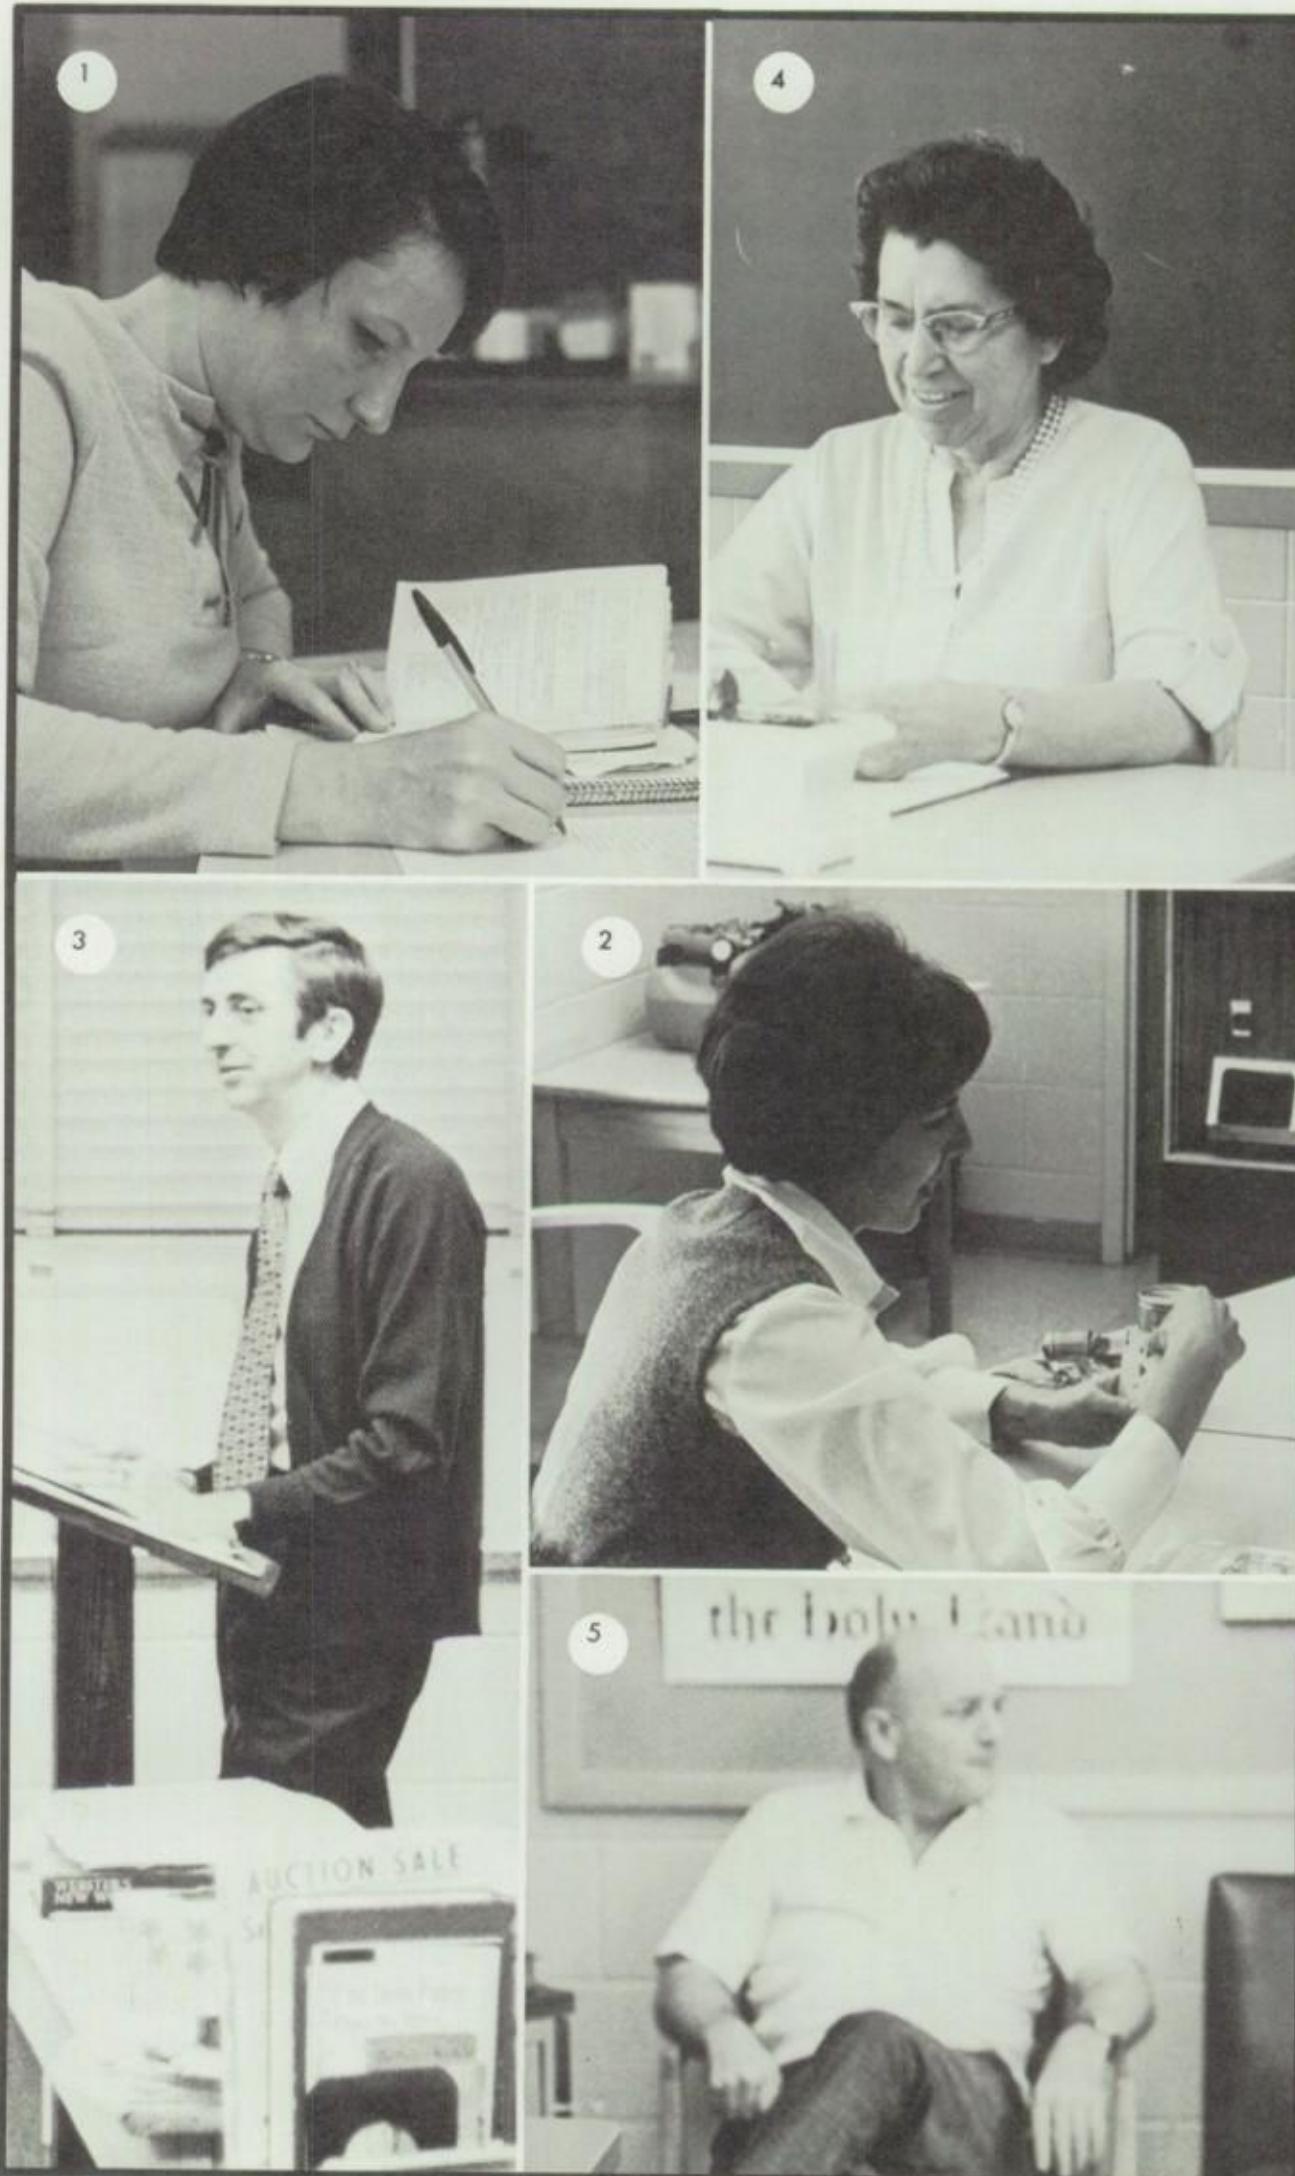

Grammar, spelling, and composition are an important part of high school life. The English department, headed by Mrs.

Myra Crump, strived to develop those three basic writing skills. Since reading and writing are essential to everyday life on the job and at college, English teachers often remained after school to help interested students pass their English class.

Going into effect next year, Chesterfield County high school seniors will be required to take a literacy test before graduating. The test will check the students' ability to read, write, and comprehend.

EMPHASIS ON BASIC SKILL

1. Not unusual among teachers Mrs. Marie Wilson makes a stencil for her classes. 2. During her free time, Mrs. Anna Ridout plays bridge. 3. Standing in front of his class, Mr. Robert Crump lectures on Mythology. 4. Interrupted by the photographer, Mrs. Lottie McNeer gives a slight chuckle. 5. Sitting in the teacher's lounge, Mr. John Rothert talks to fellow teachers.

1. Mr. Eugene Craven shows Michael Willis his name on the computer listings of students. 2. The interest of Mrs. Jackie Thomason is diverted by the photographer who captures the new teacher. 3. A person who likes to read in her spare time, Mrs. Ann Grimes directs her concentration toward John F. Kennedy's PROFILES IN COURAGE. 4. Among Mrs. Elizabeth Webb's favorite things, plants receive much of her attention outside of class. 5. MUCKRAKER staff photographer Andrew Wilds captures a quick photo of advisor Mr. James Edmonson.

The full year credit for English was divided into two semesters. For the first semester, each student took the required course for his grade level. Students were allowed to spend the second semester in a required English elective.

English teachers administered a standardized test to determine what portion of grammar needed to be received in the individual classes.

REQUIRED TO ELECTIVE

OPPOSITE PAGE: 1. Photography enthusiast, Mrs. Joyce Fitzgerald, enjoys shooting pictures. 2. Pausing a moment for a picture, Miss Carolyn Paulette acknowledges with a smile. 3. A furniture maker, Mrs. Leslie Sloan shows a magazine rack which she refinished. 4. A familiar face to many, Mrs. Myra Crump always seems to have a happy disposition.

1. New drama teacher, Miss Mary Alice Kenny, plays the piano. 2. With an array of greenery around, Mrs. Gloria Gerritz shows a favorite plant. 3. Going over English literature, Mrs. Claudia Adams has a discussion with Sharon Parker about the medieval period.

ELECTION GOES FORD

The Social Studies department focused on the elections in November as the government classes exerted strong campaigns for the presidential elections. The government students made posters to promote their candidates. Some prepared speeches and presented them to the sophomore class in a special election assembly. After the campaigning was completed, the government classes with the help of the teachers, held a mock election for the student body to vote. Gerald Ford defeated Jimmy Carter by 214 votes and the biggest secondary candidate, Roger MacBride, received fifty-three of the votes.

1. Contemplating over lesson plans, Mrs. Ellen Conyers prepares for her government classes. 2. Seen in the cafeteria, Mr. Tom Davies supervises the lunch line. 3. During the first months of school in Mr. Jesse Ridout's class, the presidential election was the topic of the lesson. 4. American history, Mrs. Ann Wilkins, helps Carol MacCubbin with a worksheet. 6. Social studies teacher, Mr. Bob Horning is a coach during football season.

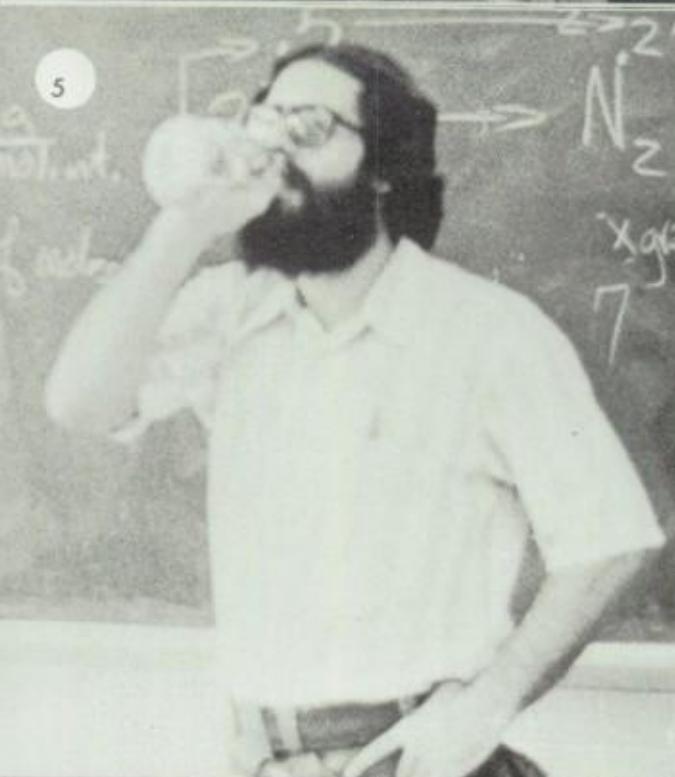

1. Interested in photography, Mr. Gene Brown snaps a picture with the aid of an apparatus which steadies the camera. 2. History and government teacher Mrs. Sarah Wolff pauses a moment to give the camera recognition. 3. After searching for something in her purse, Mrs. Jeannette James finds what she needs. 4. Quite active with the '76 presidential election, Mrs. Heather Sloan got her students really into the election. 5. A new teacher to the school, Mr. Ernie Woodcock talks with some of his students. 6. Mr. Shepard Smith writes most notes on the board to be sure his students understand.

In an attempt to broaden the usual science program, guest lecturers from various colleges from around the state came to speak to Mrs. Lovelady's first period advanced biology students about once a week introducing them to the different areas of science.

1. Reading whenever she can, Mrs. Josie Lovelady stops after school to read a book for a few minutes. 2. An avid gardener, Mrs. Dorothy Spencer waters one of the many plants in her room. 3. New to the school, Mrs. Jennifer Horn explains how Mike Dance may solve a biology problem. 4. Mrs. Jean Sadler demonstrates the principle of acceleration to her class. 5. Each day during lunch, Mr. Michael Morris drinks his water from a flask. 6. Trying to make the usage of the microscope easier to understand, Miss Kathy Flynn shows a student how to maneuver the focusing unit.

New to the chemistry program was the independent study by senior Doug O'Neal. After taking chemistry last year, Doug wanted to continue his experimental study in chemistry. He engaged himself into a solitary study, and created his own in depth experiment and hypotheses. Chemistry instructor, Mr. Morris, expressed that Doug was a special case, "I wouldn't let just anyone do this. Matter of fact, Doug is the only one that could do the independent study."

A NEW CURRICULUM

1. A familiar face among the geometric world at Thomas Dale, Mrs. Dorothy Stevenson helps Mike Lamp with some proofs. 2. Many mornings Mr. Charles Schaefer drives his motorcycle to school. 3. Sewing as a hobby, Mrs. Chris Runion completes a jacket for her husband. 4. The teaching of math and programming the computer fulfills Mrs. Linda Campbell's day. 5. A laugh is produced from Mrs. Anna Frazier by one of her students. 6. Whenever she has spare time, Mrs. Betty Lou Greene listens to albums. 7. Always eager to help her students, Mrs. Annette Crews explains an aspect of algebra.

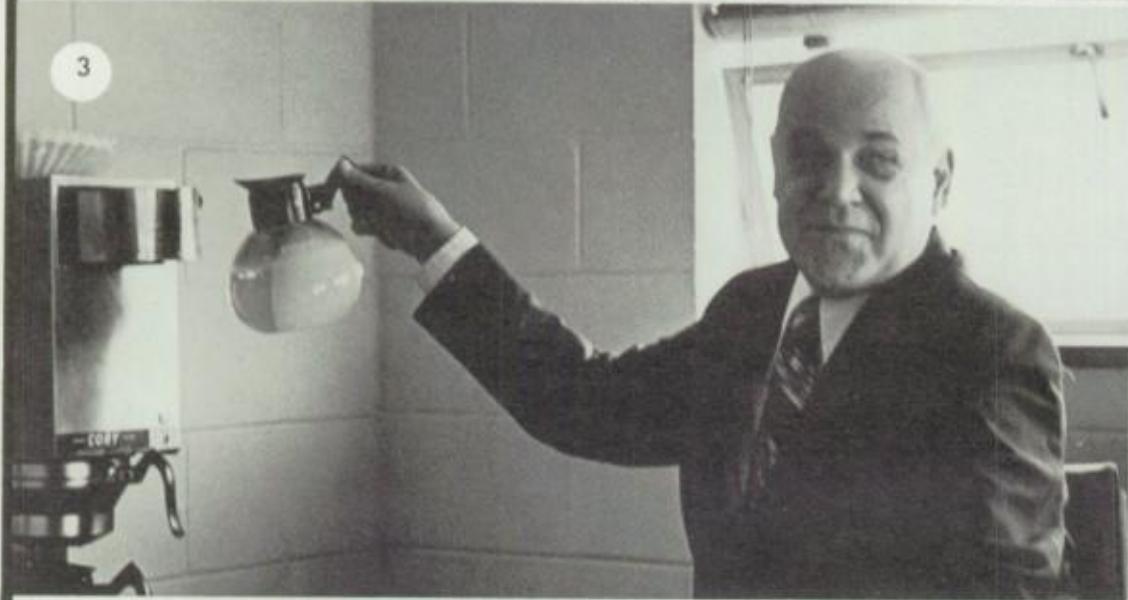

Mathematical skills never change; however, the math department and its head, Mr. Charles Schaefer, planned a new curriculum and approved new books for the upcoming year.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Campbell the computer "Euclid" continued to serve the educational purpose of familiarizing the students with the programming a computer with various types of data.

Some students never experience taking a foreign language, yet to others, speaking out of the English context for an hour is a daily occurrence. German, French, Spanish, and Latin are all offered. The Spanish classes, along with others in the area, went to Henrico County to observe a show by the famed José Greco. As Mr. Greco explained various dance steps, his wife, dressed in an array of colorful costumes, demonstrated them. As a result of the unusually high attributes of certain students, independent study had to be brought into the curriculum. Mary Jean Gorse carries the Spanish V course by herself. Mark Andrews is the only student taking Latin V.

1. Mr. Dennis Beirschmitt bicycles daily to school. 2. Mrs. Yvonne Coleman displays her work in crochet and cake decorating. 3. Each morning, Mr. Howard Blackmon prepares the coffee in the teachers' lounge. 4. Discussing the history of the Spanish influence, Mrs. Sarah Middleton converses with Julie Hewitt. 5. The Spanish culture is of much interest to Mrs. Joyce Soto as she flips through a booklet about Spain.

PREPARING FOR CO-ED

1. A familiar face among the students, Mr. Ed Karpus is always ready to give a smile or lend a hand. 2. A real participant for 50's day, Mr. Jack Westfall pauses a moment to show his attire. 3. Looking over some driver's education quizzes, Mr. Wayne Rash takes a quick glance away from his work. 4. A stylish forehand is shown by Miss Nanette Fisher. 5. In addition to coaching girl's basketball, Miss Pat Holdren also likes to play tennis. 6. Instructing her Chow dog, Bear, Miss Suzanne Wingate offers a reward in exchange for a trick.

This year seems ordinary when compared with what is to come in the physical education department. Waiting with great anticipation, the physical education department made preparations for a switch from segregated P.E. classes to co-ed classes which will go into effect next year. The health classes will remain segregated and sophomores will still take the Driver Education requirement which is intertwined with the P.E.

For the first time, a woodworking class was taught by the Special Education department by Mr. Finch. Each of the classes were oriented around a work placement program and strived to develop a sense of economic usefulness.

The teachers in the business department concentrated on the preparation of students for various clerical careers by teaching them the basic skills necessary to handle job tasks successfully.

College bound students will find the personal typing course helpful when they get to college, for instead of having to pay someone to type, they can earn extra money by typing for others.

Throughout the year, business students went to various Richmond business offices to observe how different office businesses should be run.

WOOD- WORKING INCORPO- RATED

OPPOSITE PAGE: 1. Mrs. Lorraine Cone pauses for a moment from grading papers. 2. General business teacher, Mr. Joe Downes helps a student. 3. Miss Betty Hudgins speaks to her class. 6. Flower arranging is a favorite hobby of Mrs. Edith Gay. 7. Timing her business students, Miss Sandra Cuddihy stops the watch. 8. Typing teacher, Mrs. Joyce Harvey shows Mark Reed how his assignment should be done. 9. After receiving a supplies order for the FBLA, Mrs. Robin Phillips looks over the merchandise.
LEFT: Going over a magazine with her students, Mrs. Ruby Williams reads closely. 2. Typing diligently, Mrs. Lawanda Belenger makes the absentee list. 3. Reviewing fractions, Mr. William Finch tries to encourage an answer from his class. 4. Outside the guidance offices, Mrs. Linda Boothe takes care of much of the clerical work.

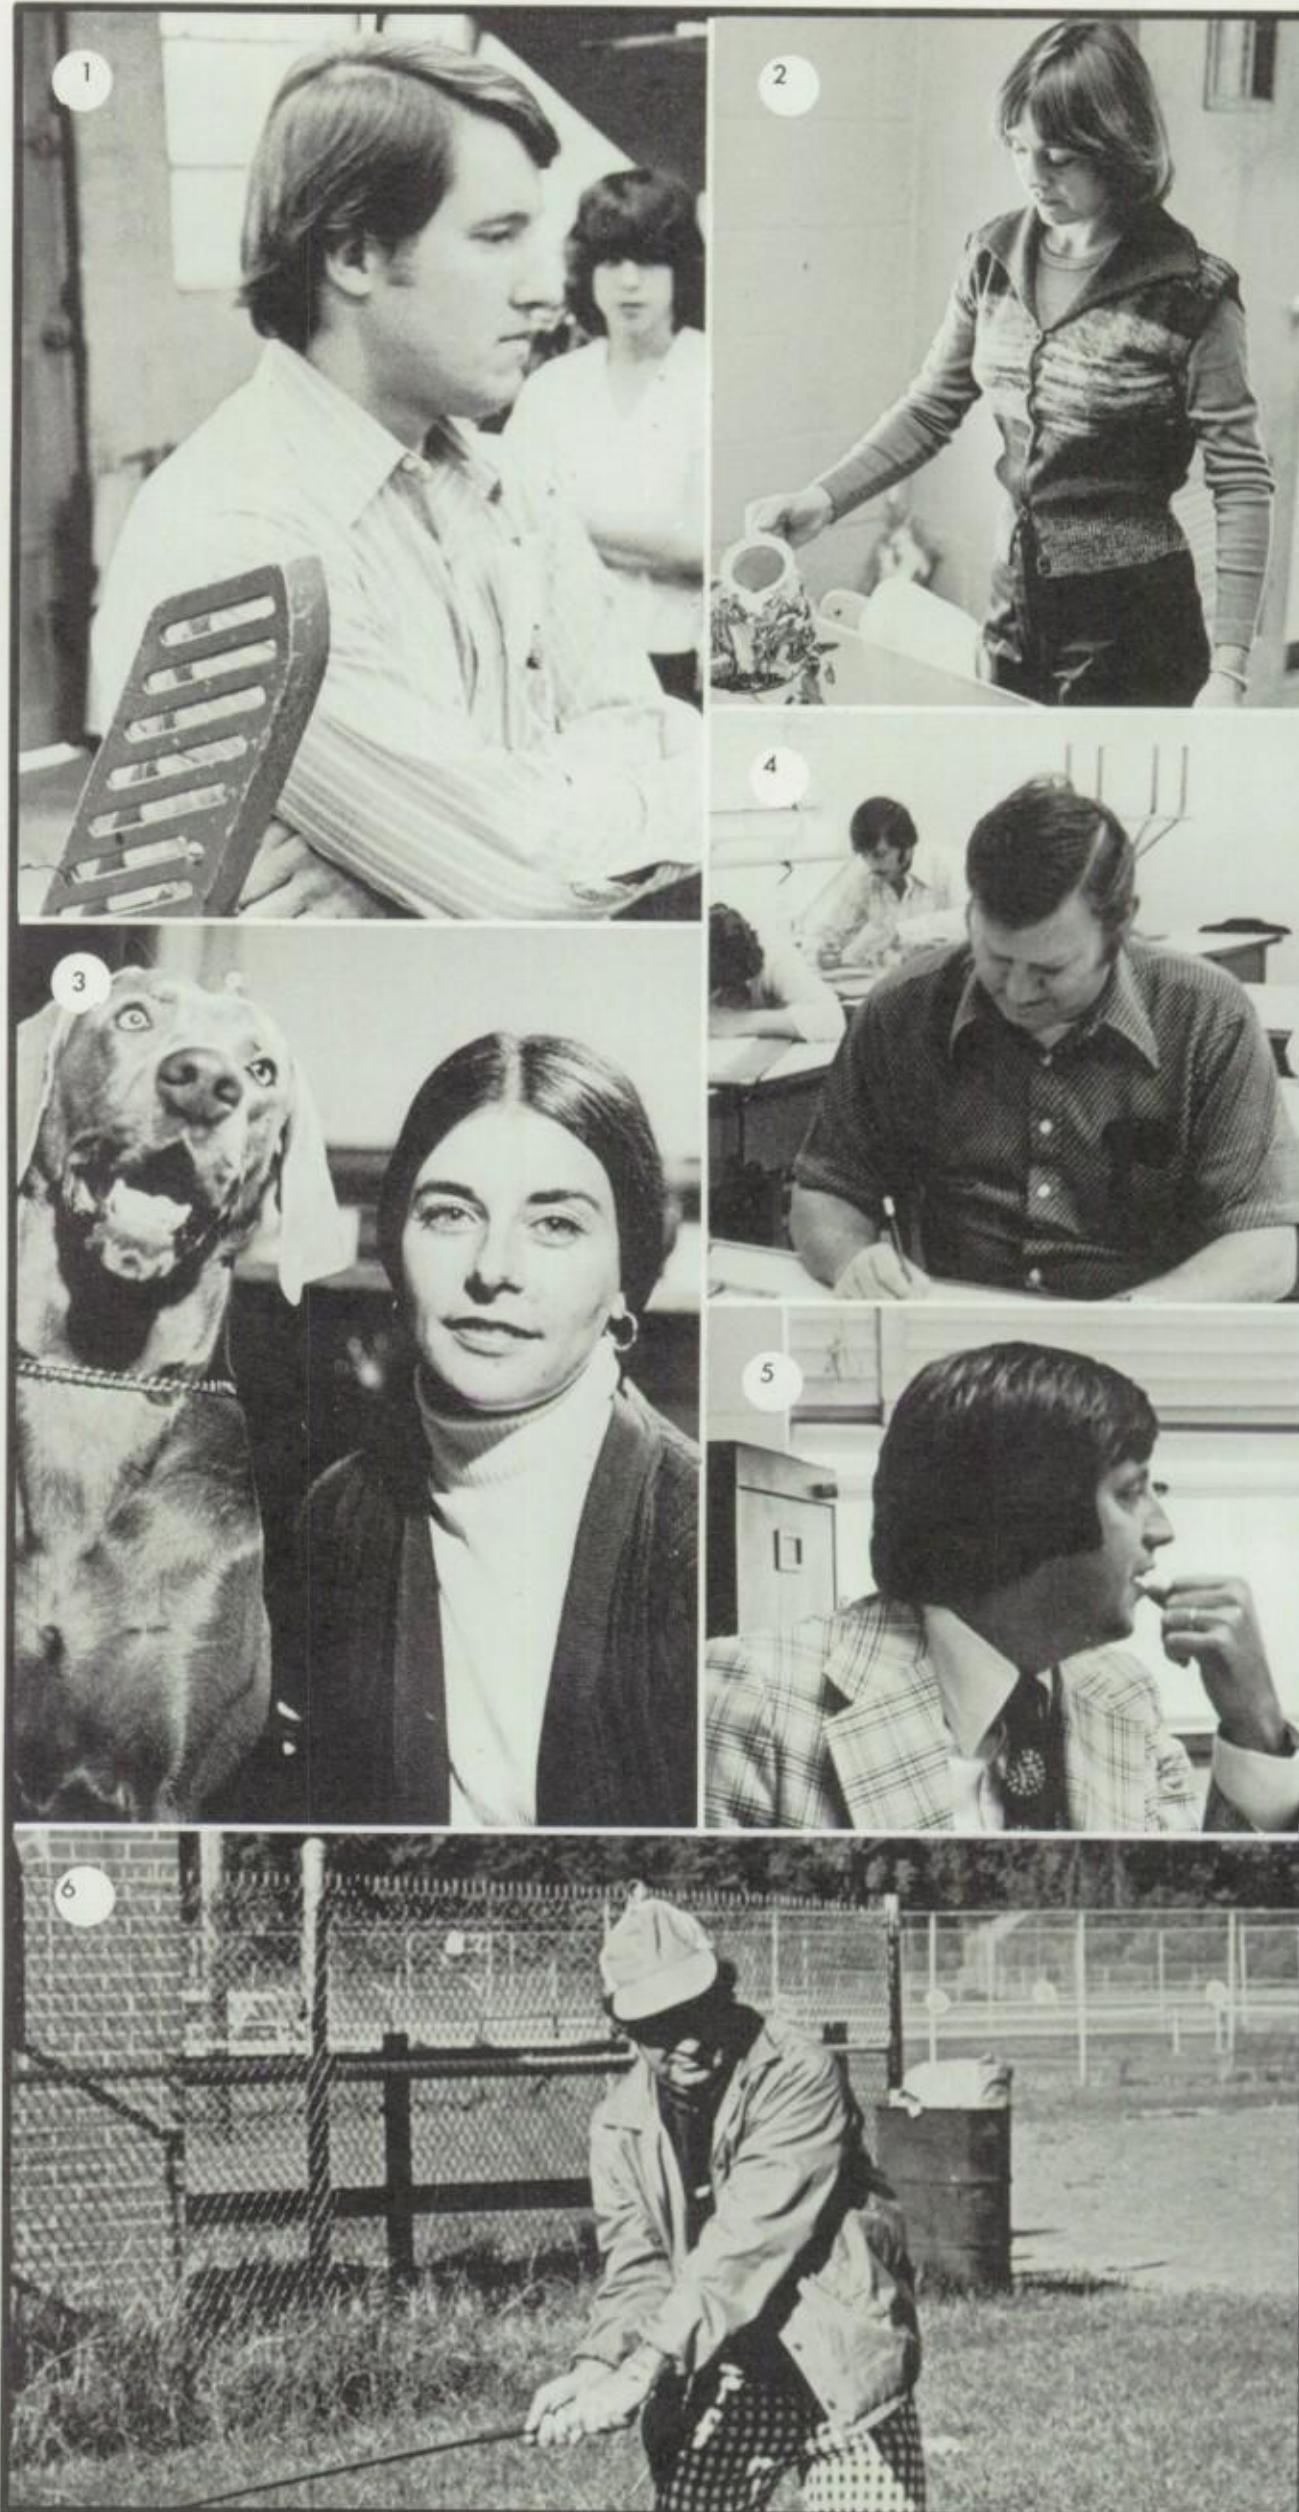

Vocational classes from each of the Chesterfield County high schools will gather at a central location for the 1977-78 school year. The new technical center will be located on Krouse Road near the Chesterfield Courthouse. Mr. Richard Engard will be principal.

Students will be transported by bus in morning and evening shifts. If enough students are interested, three shifts will be provided. The printing, drafting, and power mechanics classes will be moved from T.D. to the center. Mr. Eugene Craven will also teach a cosmetology course. Included in the curriculum will be carpentry, masonry, food services, and electronics.

NEW TECH CENTER FOR VOCATIONS

1. Concentrating on a demonstration during shop class, Mr. Hershal Howell watches closely. 2. Making sure her plants are never wilting, Mrs. Jane Kramek waters them. 3. Mrs. Judy Greene at home with Bismark. 4. Eager to share his drafting knowledge, Mr. Bob Stacy takes a look at a student's work. 5. IWE teacher, Mr. Chris Seaton, takes a look out the window. 6. An avid golfer, Mr. J. C. Lawson plays as often as he can.

1. A new teacher to the school, Mr. David Dobbs watches the work done by one of his students. 2. Mr. Alex Heggie gives careful concentration to his work. 3. Varnishing some woodwork, Mr. Phillip Redman instructs a shop student. 4. Interested in many projects, Mrs. June Chandler looks through a small library of books. 5. Mr. Albert Ride informs a student how a particular wrench is to be used.

IDLE HOURS

We give of ourselves as we give of our leisure time. In our involvement with clubs, cheerleading, etc., we expose to each other our real selves and therefore unconsciously, we make new friends. The first general rule for friendship is to be a friend, to be open, natural, interested; the second rule is to take time for friendship.

For the third year, Journalism II students received credit for work on the Muckraker. The staff was more independent than past staffs and took almost total responsibility in the publishing of the newspaper.

During the summer months, prior to the beginning of school, the staff renovated an upstairs storage room into a room for the production of the paper.

Talented young twirlers exhibited their talents at pep rallies, football games, and parades. The girls performed as a part of the band and adjusted routines to fit the music.

They attended the National Majorette Clinic at Lynchburg College to learn new routines and to obtain fresh ideas. They won a blue ribbon for performing one of their routines.

The band boosters appropriated 400 dollars for them to have other uniforms made. They were not made, however, until the end of the marching season.

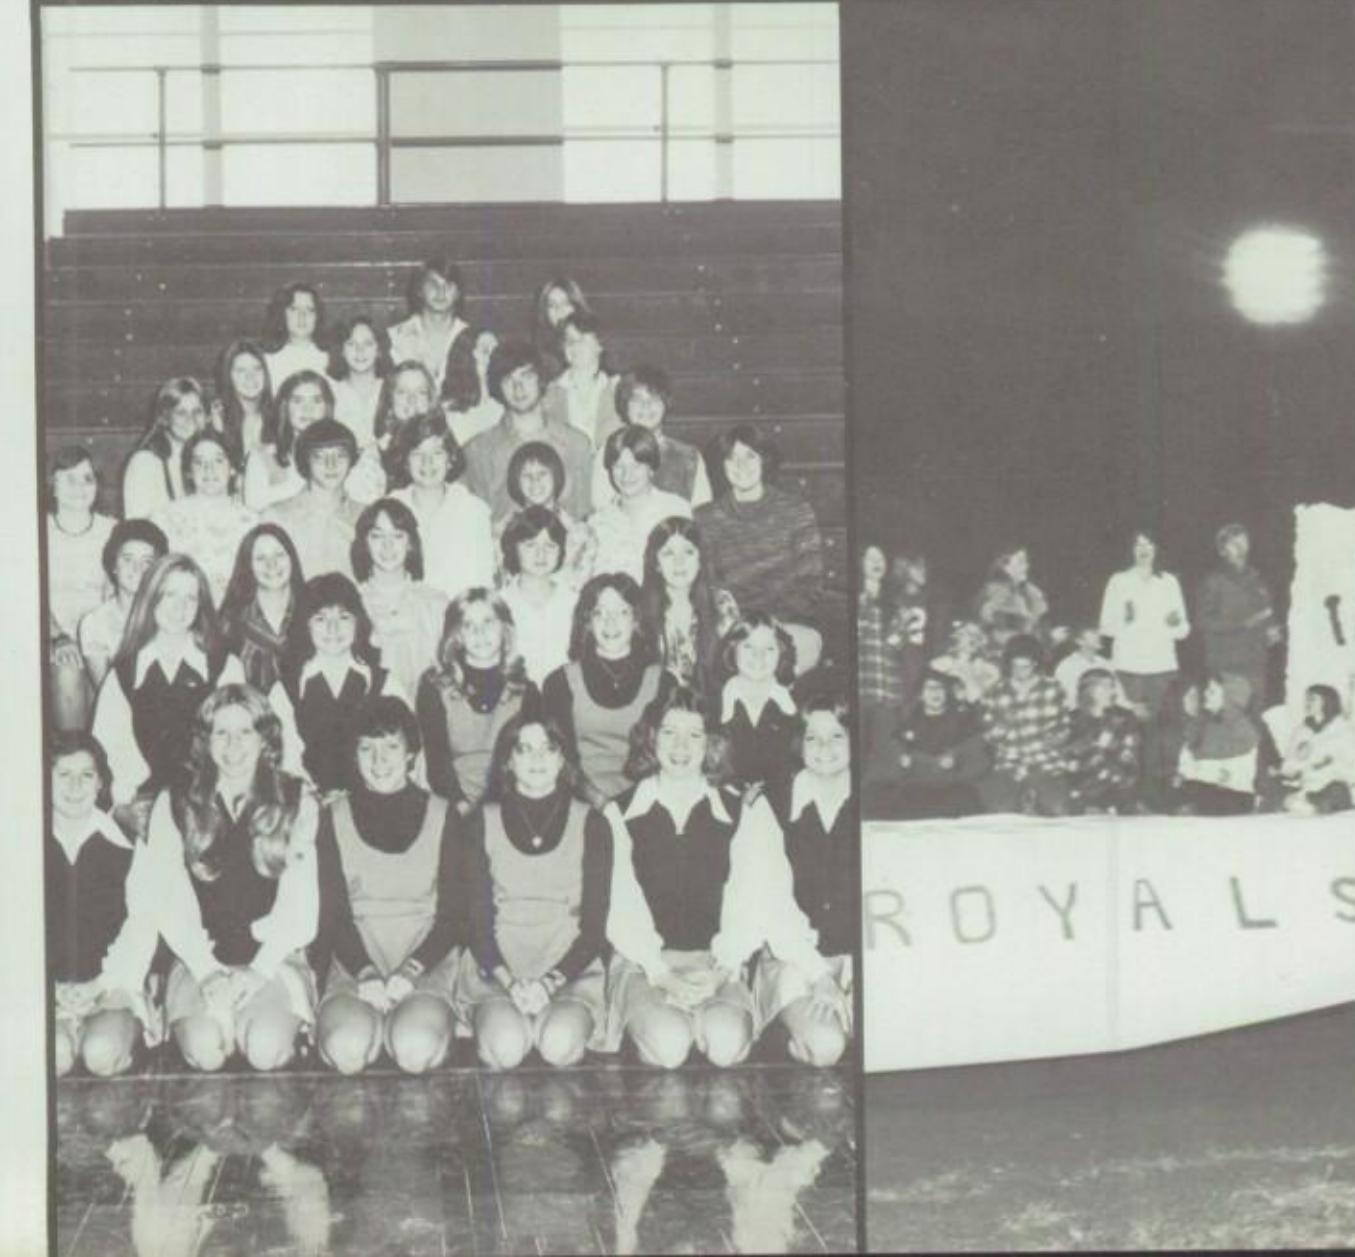

The Ecology Club aids in preventing technological advancement in naturally abundant and scenic areas. The club attempts to enlighten students and community, making them aware of ecological needs. Since recycling centers for aluminum and paper are available in the Richmond area, the club collects old cans and newspapers and takes them to these centers.

Top left; Cheering at a varsity game remains a privilege for Susan Ferguson.

Aided by the J.V. cheerleaders, the Varsity cheerleaders enticed school spirit by conducting pep rallies and supporting the well-rounded athletic programs. They enlivened the pep rallies by holding relay races to determine which class would receive the spirit banner. Last year, the class of '78 won the first spirit banner ever awarded at the school. The title of last year's banner was "The Spirit of '76."

No matter what the event, the Varsity cheerleaders seemed eager to lend support.

REFLECTOR ANATOMY

Reflector anatomy began with the head. The sponsor, Mrs. Joyce Fitzgerald acting as the cerebellum, coordinating and planning the work forces. The cerebrum was represented by the editors who controlled and developed the voluntary processes and created liveable working conditions. Together, they send out orders to other portions of the body in the good interest of the yearbook. The photographers worked as the eyes as they captured on film the most memorable events of the year. For the legs and feet, reporters went to club sponsors and coaches and obtained information for the copy writers who served as the arms and hands. As copy writers, they wrote the stories to match the pictures. Layout personnel acted as the skin that pulled the pictures and copy together into a complete, ready to publish, yearbook.

SPECIAL THANKS TO:

Jim Barnett for his fantastic photography.

Danny DeFalco for his devotion and friendship.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Moore for their assistance and understanding.

Alex Heggie for sharing his graphic arts knowledge.

Mrs. June Roop for sharing her art knowledge.

Mr. Dennis Bierschmitt for the use of his bicycle.

Kenny Glidewell, Lisa Hale, and Jerry Chambliss for posing for the class divider page pictures.

Andrew Wilds for allowing us the use of his pictures.

Administration for their cooperation.

Hershaw Howell for putting the doors on the darkroom.

Billy Chase and John Harvey for their photography in the color section.

Mrs. Joyce Fitzgerald for her dedication and patience. We love her even if she is not Houdini! Also, the staff would like to thank Mrs. Fitzgerald for the beautiful Christmas dinner she held in her home for us.

Mr. David Fitzgerald for his understanding when Mrs. Fitzgerald had to spend countless hours on the production of the yearbook.

Time, the eternal element of swing that never stops its motion, continues across the written and unwritten pages of life. As each second becomes lost to eternity never to be recaptured, so does each act that accompanies that moment of time. Difficult as it may be to recall the small times in a person's life, a picture may recall moments once forgotten. Abundant is time until it is gone and amazing is the moment it is until recaptured again in a collection of feelings.
